

Dared Life In Jungle:

Lonely, Friendless Boy Seeks Mother

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An unwanted American boy, who dared the Colombian jungle rather than live on in loneliness, is here on a wistful quest.

Carlos Telmo Lince Jr., 14, not quite an orphan, seeks the only person who can fill the void in his heart: his mother. His search could be hopeless.

He was only 7 when Mrs. Carlos T. Lince decided in 1952—one year after they had moved there from Los Angeles—that she could not go on living in Bogota, Colombia.

She disappeared. If she ever sent back word, it never reached Carlos and his sister, Lucia, 11, lives with their father, a Colombian airline pilot who has remarried.

Carlos went to a military school in Bogota. Lonely and friendless, he tried repeatedly to get away. The third time he ran away, last July 15, he made it.

He wandered in the tropical wilds, looking for something. What he didn't know. Coconuts and wild berries and vegetables kept him going. Occasionally he shinned up a tree to elude wild animals.

Found By Indians

Two weeks later Indians found him in the forests of San Blas 16-land off the coast of Panama. He lived with them more than three months. They eventually took him to a missionary who turned him over to the American consul in Panama Nov. 8.

Police were told that neither the father nor an aunt in Miami, Fla., want the boy.

"He has never had the friendship and affection he craved," says Roy Aldridge, 28, a policeman in Cristobal, Panama, who brought Carlos to this country recently. "He's intelligent. Given the chance, he could really make something of himself."

Trail Lost

An American citizen, Mrs. Lince now 32, was traced to Lincoln, Neb., but there the trail was lost.

CARLOS LINC JR.

Carlos has a home offered him. Aldridge's stepfather, H. F. Abney of Los Angeles, plans to adopt him if possible. Abney, too, is a policeman.

But the boy, more than anything else, wants to find his mother.

Convict-Started Fire Controlled

PETROS, Tenn. (AP)—A coal mine fire started by rebellious convicts at Brushy Mountain State Prison was under control, but continued to smolder today.

The prisoners set the mountain-side mine afire Wednesday just before they ended an unexplained 14-hour stay in the mine.

Warden Frank Llewellyn said the firemen had kept the flames from spreading to the 1½ miles of shafts coursing into the Cumberland Mountains.

Soviet Tried To Check All West Trucks

U. S. Drivers Held 56 Hours Believe Move Pre-Planned

HELMSTEDT, West Germany (UPI)—American truck drivers held for 56 hours at a Soviet checkpoint said today the Russians attempted to inspect all Western Allied military vehicles traveling from West Berlin last Monday.

They told newsmen at a pre-dawn press conference here that Soviet troops tried to inspect two British army trucks after they had demanded and been refused permission to inspect the four-truck U. S. Army convoy.

Pre-Planned

SAC Elwood F. Johnson Brooklyn, N. Y., said, "I believe the situation was pre-planned."

The Soviets held the four trucks and their five-man crew for almost two-and-a-half days in spite of repeated demands by American military authorities for their release. Their release came after the United States sent a stiff protest note to Moscow.

It was seen as a victory for the Western Allied principle of free and unhindered access to the isolated former capital of Germany.

Johnson said he became suspicious of the Russians when his convoy was allowed to move through the Soviet control point at the Berlin end of the highway in 20 minutes instead of the hour it usually took.

"When we reached Helmstedt, I had a feeling the Russians were going to stop some convoys, but I didn't suspect it would be my convoy."

Demand Search

Johnson said that when convoy commander Cpl. Richard C. Masiero of West Stockbridge, Mass., presented his travel documents to the Russians, the Soviets demanded the right to search the vehicles.

Johnson and SAC James E. Cook, Hardeeville, S. C., said the Russians used no violence but that no one was allowed to talk to them.

PFC Robert E. Love of Rural Rt. 3, Plain City, Ohio, and PFC Benjamin G. Peoples Rl. 2, Theodore, Ala., also attended the press conference, but did not answer questions. Cpl. Masiero had returned to West Berlin.

MOTHER BARRED FROM WEDDING — A Pasadena, Calif., businessman, Louis E. Purmort, 34, above, and his bride-to-be, Mrs. Barbara Stanley Thorndike, 26, a divorcee, tell newsmen why he obtained a court order yesterday barring his mother from attending their wedding Sunday. He said the mother had threatened to kill him.

Couple Jailed After 'Selling' Young Twins

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — The 24-year-old couple who sold the mother's 8-year-old boy twins to a policeman and juvenile officer for $300 in marked bills, was held in Harris County jail today.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Stillion gave a bill of sale for the twins to policeman Mrs. Lanny Dixon and juvenile officer Robert E. Brumley Wednesday. The officers promptly arrested the couple.

The twins were the sons of Mrs. Stillion, a blonde who said she was from England.

The Stillions also have two daughters, Nancy, 4, and Tina, 2. Mrs. Stillion said she and the father of the twins were divorced in England in 1953. She then married Stillion while he was stationed in England with the Air Force, and came to this country with him.

The policeman said she received a report Wednesday that a couple was "trying to give away some children."

Posing as a childless couple, Mrs. Dixon and Brumley traced the Stillions through a description and the report that the mother was a "foreigner."

The policeman said the couple told them they "didn't want to go through all the trouble of going to court for the children, and asked us how much money we needed to clear out of here and return to my husband's home in Franklin, Mich."

Mrs. Dixon said "we told them $500."

Mrs. Stillion complained, "You would think I had committed the worst crime in the world. I was simply trying to find someone who would adopt the children because we couldn't take care of them."

Man's Mother Barred From Wedding Sunday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A wealthy Pasadena manufacturer, Frances Purmort, obtained custody of her two children.

The divorce became final Friday. The former wife, Mrs. Carolyn Frances Purmort, obtained custody of her two children.

"I would rather see you dead than married to Barbara," Purmort quoted his mother. "If you go ahead and get married in church, I'm going to be there and stop this marriage."

Superior Court Judge Ellsworth Meyer ordered Mrs. Purmort to stay away from the wedding, from the wedding reception, and the going-away party. The couple will leave for Hawaii on their honeymoon.

The son informed the court that his mother had written his lawyer, blaming Mrs. Thorndike, 26, for breaking up his first marriage.

Draftee Bill Passage Due

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A bill to continue the draft was certain to win House approval today. The only question was: How long an extension?

Some congressmen were set to touch off a fight by urging that military induction be extended only for two years. The House Armed Services Committee okayed a bill 34-1 which would continue the draft for four years, as President Eisenhower requested.

The draft is scheduled to expire June 30.

confession voluntarily and had been well treated by the revolutionary police.

Nye told newsmen he left the U.S. Navy in 1954 and became a reservist. He said he had worked for the Douglas Aircraft Co. in Patuxent River, Md., and for the agricultural air service spraying outfit in Florida.

WHITING, Ind. (AP)—The mother of Alan Robert Nye today discounted a Cuban National Police report that her son had confessed to a plot to kill Rebel Chief Fidel Castro.

Mrs. Helen Lynch, mother of the 31-year-old former U.S. naval pilot, told The Associated Press: "Don't you believe what the Cuban police are saying. They got very excited over nothing. They have made up a story. I'm positive my son is innocent."

Adm. Dennison Gets Top Naval Command

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (UPI)—President Eisenhower today elevated the one-time naval aide to former President Truman, Vice Admiral Robert L. Dennison, to one of the Navy's top jobs—commander of American naval forces in the Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

Dennison is now deputy chief of naval operations for plans and policy.

Motorist Drives Through Plane's Propeller, Unhurt

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — A confused motorist who drove through a propeller of an idling Air Force Transport Wednesday night escaped unhurt, but his car and the plane were heavily damaged.

Andrew J. Bird, 70, failed to heed several warning signs and drove across runways at Cleveland's Hopkins Airport, right through a whirling propeller of a four-engine, C13B Hercules jet-prop transport waiting to take off.

Terminal officials said Bird kept right on driving before he was halted by airport police. He said he had come to the airport to pick up his wife who works at the airport terminal, but got lost.

Air Force officials, called from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton to investigate, estimated damage to the plane at $150,000. They said the propeller was damaged and the engine burned out.

The whirling blades made "six neat slices" through the roof of Bird's car.

"I must have made a wrong turn," Bird admitted.

Tiny Satellite's Life Span Seen At 2,000 Years

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy's 3.25-pound Vanguard satellite will spin around the earth for 2,000 years, instead of the some 200 years previously forecast.

Rear Adm. John T. Hayward, Navy research chief, predicted the greatly increased life span for the grapefruit-sized satellite in testimony Wednesday before the House Space Committee. He gave no reason for the increase.

Finance Unit Seeks Money For Schools

Bill Would Hike Education Aid By 15,000,000

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The House Finance Committee was faced today with the task of finding money in the state budget from new taxes for a bill to hike state aid to West Virginia public schools by $15,000,000 a year.

The measure, which stipulates that half of that amount will be distributed to counties on an "incentive" basis, was approved Wednesday by the House Education Committee.

The Education Committee, in recommending passage, also asked that the bill be referred to the finance group so that it might give it further study.

Before the measure, sponsored by the State Education Department and West Virginia Education Assn., could reach the House floor, the finance committee would normally have to establish where the money could be obtained.

The Education Committee also approved a bill Wednesday to allow county school boards to pay teachers for time lost when schools are closed due to bad weather.

Among bills recommended by House Finance included one increasing from $1,350,000 to $1,900,000 the amount of revenue bonds Marshall College may sell to finance a new physical education building. It has been unable to obtain a bid within the lower amount authorized last year.

Coal Industry Relief Asked By Senators

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A meeting was scheduled here today between Sens. Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd (both D-W. Va.) and officials of the National Coal Assn. and United Mine Workers Union.

The West Virginia Democrats said they planned to discuss with these officials the damage caused to coal producing states by residual oil imports.

"We are seeking the advice and counsel of experts" before conferring Friday with administration officials, they said in a joint statement Wednesday.

They said the industry and labor groups have the "greatest knowledge obtainable as to the damage being wrought to America's coal industry by imported residual oil."

Randolph and Byrd are scheduled to meet Friday with Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the President's advisory committee on energy, supplies, resources and policies.

Earlier this week, they urged President Eisenhower in a telegram to impose more strict oil import quotas. The senators said the voluntary import control program has "failed miserably" and is inflicting "heavy damage" to the nation's coal industry and particularly their home state.

Psychiatrist To Take Over State Post May 1

By CARLO J. SALZANO
CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Gov. Cecil H. Underwood said today that Dr. Richard P. Lilly would take over as West Virginia Mental Health Director about May 1.

The governor withdrew the appointment of the 36-year-old psychiatrist Wednesday following a challenge on his status by State Auditor Edgar B. Sims.

The chief executive also announced at a news conference that he had delayed the scheduled execution of Elmer David Bruner from March 27—Good Friday—to April 3.

He also put an end to the chances of Charleston attorney F. Paul Chambers for appointment as judge of the U. S. District Court for Southern West Virginia.

Sims had refused to okay a four-day January paycheck for Lilly, saying that he had not lived in West Virginia for a full year. The auditor said this was a requirement for a state official elected or appointed to a fixed term or fixed salary.

Ross to Serve
Underwood said Lilly would take over the $20,000-a-year job when he meets that requirement about May 1. He named Dr. Margaret T. Ross, Charleston, present department assistant, to serve as interim director until that date. Lilly was named last week to succeed Dr. William T. Rossman who resigned.

The governor said the name of Chambers—who he favored to succeed the late Judge Ben Moore—definitely would not be proposed to President Eisenhower.

It had been reported Underwood and another Republican faction led by National Committeeman Walter S. Hallanan would attempt to agree on a compromise candidate.

This apparently also eliminated the Hallanan favorite, Charleston attorney Howard Klostermeyer.

Democratic Sens. Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd made it clear this week they would oppose confirmation of Chambers if he were nominated. They did not specify their reasons.

Underwood said he received notification Wednesday from Atty. Gen. William Rogers that Chambers' name would not be submitted to the White House for the vacancy in view of the West Virginia senators' "personal" objections to Chambers.

Gels Advice
The governor said Rogers advised him that it had been decided to submit Chambers' name until Randolph and Byrd objected. By custom, the name of a person is not submitted for appointment if the senators in the individual's home state are against him.

Underwood said he had no objections to any of four other persons which he understood now shared the favoritism of Hallanan and National Committeewoman Frances Ogden Stubblefield.

The execution of Bruner was set back, the governor said, because the date set by Cabell County Common Pleas Judge Ernest Winters was on Easter weekend. Winters set the new date recently after Bruner's appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court was rejected.

Bruner, 41, Huntington, was convicted of first degree murder in the hammer slaying in May, 1957, of Mrs. Ruby Miller, wife of a prominent Huntington contractor.

There were four trailer parks in New York City at latest count.

Marylander Arrested In Tax Inquiry

HAVANA (AP)—W. Edward Klawans, a Maryland-born Cuban attorney, has been re-arrested in a tax inquiry.

The Revolutionary Army's Department of Investigation has accused Klawans, 63, and two associates now in exile abroad of trying to evade tax payments of 15 million dollars on the Charco Redondo manganese mines.

Klawans, born in Annapolis, Md., is a naturalized Cuban. He has lived in this island nation 40 years.

Sims Has Quick Reply

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Auditor Edgar B. Sims had a quick answer Wednesday for a request for a check for Dr. Richard Lilly, newly-appointed State Mental Health director.

The young chief executive questioned during a news conference whether, under West Virginia's Constitution, Sims could legally reside outside the city of Charleston while in office.

Underwood noted that Sims lives in nearby South Charleston while the Constitution states that he is a "legal" resident of West Virginia.

The auditor shot back with the answer that the word "at" comes America are more than 4,700,000 from the Latin "at" which Sims boys and leaders.

Fried Chicken with Creole Sauce
Steamed Rice Green Beans
Salad Bread Tray
Mince-meat Turnovers Beverage

MINCEMEAT TURNOVERS
Ingredients: ½ pound butter or margarine, 2 packages (8 ounces each) cream cheese, 2¼ cups flour (do not sift before measuring), 2 cups (about) moist mince-meat, 1 tablespoon (about) light or heavy cream.
Method: Mix butter and cream cheese until blended. Mix in flour until blended. Pat dough down on waxed paper and mark into 4 portions. Chill. Roll out each quarter of the dough separately on prepared pastry cloth with flour stockinet-covered rolling pin. Dough is rich but use only enough flour during rolling to keep from sticking. Cut each portion of dough into 4 squares (each 4 by 4 inches). Place 2 tablespoons of mince-meat near center of each square; fold dough over to make triangle. Press 3 edges of triangle together with tines of a fork. Prick tops

Tips On Making Scalloped Veal

Mushrooms and meat are always good companions. In this Lisbon Scalloped Veal they are mated again, to make a new way to prepare veal.
Wipe six thin slices of veal with damp cloth. Season with salt and pepper. Brown on both sides in ¼ cup butter or margarine. Have a heavy frying pan hot so veal browns quickly and retains its juices. Reduce heat and cook 5 or 10 minutes. Remove to serving dish and keep hot. Clean one cup large fresh mushrooms, slice and cook for 3 or 4 minutes in fat remaining in pan. Stir in ¼ cup port wine, cook about 5 minutes to reduce, wine. Blend one tablespoon flour and two tablespoons cold water to make smooth paste. Add to wine and cook, stirring until thick and smooth. Stir in ¼ cup cream. Pour over veal. Makes four to six servings.

After-School Snack

All ages enjoy this sweet nutritious beverage.
Chocolate Banana Malted Milk
CHOCOLATE BANANA MALTED MILK
Ingredients: 2 small or medium-sized fully ripe bananas, 2 tablespoons instant chocolate flavored sweetened malted milk powder, 2 cups homogenized milk.
Method: Make sure bananas are speckled with brown and are not green at the tip. Peel and mash fine with a fork. Add malted milk and milk; beat well. Pour into glasses. Makes 3 medium-sized servings.

Loosen Tomato Skin

If a tomato is extremely ripe you can loosen its skin, before peeling, by rubbing a case knife over its entire outer surface.

St. Valentine Day Special Treat

There are many ways to say I love you — and food and drink still rate among the best. St. Valentine's Day calls for a special treat — one which will appeal to your favorite husband and delight the children as well.
Cake and ice cream is everybody's favorite. A variety of iced, heart-shaped cakes are available for your selection. As for the ice cream, serve it in a yummy drink which combines fresh fruit with the added tang and zest of ginger ale. Have plenty of the makings on hand — you can be sure they'll ask for seconds.

And here's a drink you can whip up in no time:

Franks Cafe

Juice of 1 lime, 1 cup sieved strawberries, coffee ice cream, pale dry ginger ale.
Combine lime juice and strawberries. Divide among 3 tall glasses. Fill each glass with ice cold ginger ale. Stir gently to mix. Top each glass with a scoop of ice cream.

Roast Chicken With Stuffing Dinner Entree

Roast Stuffed Chicken with Natural Gravy
Browned Potatoes Green Peas Tossed Salad
American French Dressing Ice Cream Beverage

American French Dressing
Ingredients: ¼ cup salad vinegar, ¼ cup peanut oil, 1 tablespoon olive oil, 1¼ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon white pepper, ¼ teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon dried crumbled salad herb mixture, 1 clove garlic.
Method: Put the vinegar, oils, salt, pepper, sugar, mustard, paprika and salad herbs in a jar with a screw-on cover. Cut peeled garlic clove in half and press down slightly with heavy wide bladed knife; add these slightly mashed garlic pieces to salad dressing mixture; shake well. Refrigerate an hour or two or overnight before using; remove garlic cloves before adding dressing to salad. Store leftover dressing in tightly covered container in refrigerator. Remove half an hour or so before using in case oil congeals. Makes about 1 cup.

Seasoned Plank

Planks for cooking steak are usually made of a hard wood — oak, hickory or maple.
They must be seasoned, by oiling and placing in a slow oven for about an hour, before using; this direction is for a homemade plank that is new.

New Topping

For a new topping on chocolate cup cakes, try putting two marshmallows, cut in half, on top of each cake. Set under the broiler, using low heat, until the marshmallows are puffy and golden-brown and serve while still warm.

Wine Over

Chilled Pears

There are many recipes.

The simplest (and one of the best) being a few tablespoons of good sweet wine over chilled sliced pears.

Grapefruit Garnish

Heat drained canned or thawed frozen grapefruit sections in a little butter and use as a garnish for broiled fish.
Prepare pineapple rings or chunks the same way and team with ham.

OUR COUNTRY
The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

German Plan

THE UNITED STATES need not and should not take any action with regard either to Berlin, to Germany or to Europe which represents a yielding of even the smallest order to Russian ultimatums, deadlines and similar forcing efforts, including the recent halting of a truck convoy at the East-West German border. We know there is no genuine crisis in Berlin or Germany. There is only the artificial stir created by Moscow. We have to consider, however, that aside from its usual purpose of trying to keep the West off balance, the Kremlin may by these maneuvers be attempting in its crude way to get at some sort of settlement of the German problem. This possibility we cannot ignore, and the evidence is that we will not.

IN THE MONTHS ahead—perhaps most pointedly after the expiration of Russia's arrogantly proposed May 27 deadline for our departure from Berlin—we should be prepared for a full and fresh exploration of all issues pertaining to Germany and a larger European settlement. Conferences among Western diplomats with that end in view are now being undertaken. They should be thorough and searching. The issues need new imagination, brighter invention than they have had in recent times.

WHATEVER WE come up with, there can of course be no discussion or negotiation over Berlin alone. Even to entertain such talks would be to concede that our unchallenged right to be in Berlin is subject to negotiation, which it is not. What we must indicate to the Russians is our awareness that in their savage manner, like a kid banging on a pan to get attention, they have asked for a new look at Germany and Europe. No narrower approach will do. If they will talk on this basis, then we must seize the opportunity for presenting a broad, positive program for settlement which will pass the multiple tests of safeguarding Germany and the West, offering assurances of security from German attack to the Russians, and winning the general support of world opinion as a sound contribution to peace. Germany is the key to Europe. We, not the Russians, must be the ones to turn it in the lock.

Hello, Out There

GEN. DONALD KEIRN, head of the Air Force nuclear engine program, thinks that if life exists on other planets we may hear it before we see it. Scientists, of course, have long speculated on the prospect, and many believe that conditions favoring life on other bodies are to be presumed in great number within planetary systems all over the universe. In dreaming about it, though, we've mostly imagined that one day we'd step out of a rocket and be greeted by some little man with feet two inches long and eyes four feet wide. Or something. Keirn says what's likely to happen is that "we'll identify their existence through the interception of their communications before we meet them face to face." In other words, some future American space jockey, idly twiddling his electronic dials, one day will suddenly be startled to hear: "And so, ladies and gentlemen, I give you that man of sterling character, that paragon of courage, that great humanitarian and statesman, the next president of Mars..."

Speed And Safety

WITH AMERICAN Airlines now flying its big Boeing 707's coast to coast, the pure jet age in U.S. commercial air travel is really upon us. Eastbound flights from Los Angeles to New York will take only 4½ hours, westbound trips about an hour longer. In this telescoping time, Americans who climb aboard the jets will find themselves racing at 600 miles an hour, at altitudes up to 35,000 feet and more. It should be comforting to the jet-age passenger, therefore, to know that these bold thrusts into higher air are taken under the most careful safeguards. All pure jet commercial flights over U. S. soil, and that includes National's Florida runs and the continental approaches by transatlantic lines, are not only under the constant guidance of FAA's Air Traffic Control but are watched on radar screens. No other commercial flights are thus observed. And the setting up of this radar net, relying heavily on established Air Defense Command stations, is a big milestone in American air safety.

Can Dulles-Fulbright Feud Be Healed?

WASHINGTON — Fate has now thrown two important gentlemen who do not like each other very much into an association which, for good or ill, must be close. They are Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and the brand new chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Senator J. William Fulbright.

Washington is waiting to see now whether the relationship will work out into a bitter feud, as it once did between Senator Clinton P. Anderson, when he was chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, and the then chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, Admiral Lewis Strauss. That battle ended only when Admiral Strauss declined reappointment.

AS IN THE Anderson-Strauss case, the lack of attachment between Dulles and Fulbright can be as well explained by the verse about the unlabeled Dr. Fell as anything:

"I do not like you, Doctor Fell,
The reason why I cannot tell.
But this I know and know full well,

C of C To Promote Political Interest

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The businessman's answer to COPE — the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education — is PPP. It stands for Political Participation Program.

As unveiled by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce here, it's an eight-week study course that will cost you $6. This tops labor's "Give a buck to COPE" campaign 600 per cent.

But Arthur H. Motley, president of Parade Publications and chairman of the USCC committee that planned PPP says:

"Our program is not a reaction to organized labor. We don't want labor and business to meet head-on over politics. That would be disastrous.

"We've had a well organized labor movement in this country for years. It has been promoting progress in its own interests, which is perfectly legitimate. Business has no right to call 'boul!' because there's been no foul.

"ESSENTIAL difference," says Motley, "is that COPE is designed to sell issues and candidates who stand for the issues COPE is promoting.

"In contrast to this, PPP is strictly nonpartisan. It can be taken up by any labor organization, business group, church, lodge or women's auxiliary without anyone having to change his views.

"We are not going to issue 'wrong' or 'right' voting lists on legislators, the way COPE does. We're not omniscient on who's right and who's wrong."

SOME PEOPLE are disappointed that PPP isn't more partisan — more anti-COPE. Mr. Motley admits. They point to the 300,000 union organizers throughout the country who can do political work on the side. They want something to match this.

Motley in turn points out that there are four million businessmen in the country. "If just 10 per cent of them became active in politics," says Motley, "we'd have 400,000 more people working for good government."

TO PROMOTE PPG, U.S. Chamber of Commerce field men will visit all local chambers of commerce. The field men won't recruit members nor conduct the

"I do not like you, Doctor Fell," Both Anderson and Fulbright could, of course, document the cases against their opposite numbers, and often have, in fact. Yet relations might have been different had there not been a more personal antipathy.

HOWEVER, since they are now in the same boat, come hell or high water, Dulles and Fulbright have made a start at a meeting of minds. There never has been any doubt that their aims were the same.

Monday night they met at Dulles's home in a long session under conditions which were intended to be as relaxed as possible. Dulles was headed for talks in London, Paris, and Bonn on a reply to the Soviet Union on the German question. Since he had to be secure on home base before he left, the first move was clearly up to him, and he made it. Time will prove how successful he was.

FULBRIGHT has been critical of Dulles for keeping decision-making in the State Department under his hat. He has objected to Dulles's failure to use the frequently competent personnel of the foreign service in diplomatic negotiations.

Most of all, he has resented the failure of the United States to move off the dime in questions of foreign policy. He has felt Dulles to be needlessly and dangerously inflexible.

Thus Dulles faces a challenge not only from the Russians, but from the Senate. How well he can accommodate himself to his new situation will be a continuing story which will confront not only the press and public, but every one of the four score embassies in the capital.

DULLES is a shrewd man and a determined one who has no taste for defeat. Chances are that he will swallow as much pride as necessary and give getting along with Fulbright the old college try. If he fails in this hour when great foreign policy decisions loom ahead, he will be aware that his position as Secretary of State has become untenable.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — Twice, and perhaps even three times, during the long months when the Castro revolution in Cuba seemed to be at least a stalemate if not hopeless enterprise, I dropped into a frowzy somewhat bedraggled little night club on the upper West Side of New York and talked to ardent Castrites and what they said resulted in a column for each visit. Some of you may remember, perhaps not.

The last one, at least three to four months ago, had a few at full throttle, exhorting and table-slapping and promising "una gran sorpresa. Pronto." Well, as it happened and when it came, it was a great surprise. Not as soon as they predicted to me, but soon enough.

THE OTHER icy night, wandering that transplanted Antilles area of Manhattan, I dropped in once again and they were all there again: Tomasito, Josefina, Maria and Torito, Junia and Felix. Linda and El Macho.

This time you could hear the Cuban beat of music all the way out to the cold sidewalk and inside the air was festive and gay and noisy instead of conspiratorial. It was now a night club, a true one, going strong and noisily, instead of a tatty little basement with a discouraged little band and some sullen plotters mouthing big, brave words.

"Ole, viejito," cried Maria, as I walked in. "Asientase. Es la noche de victoria."

So I sat, even though called "little old man," and we all talked and pulled an unglazed bottle of Cuban rum and had a whale of a time.

EL MACHO, the strong one, the bull, the all-man, with the shoulders like the front end of a truck and the jaw like the jut from a rock mountain, stood, mostly. Because the girls wanted him to dance with them, one by one, but in between, he put hands flat on the little wet table and spoke his say.

"We told you, you will certainly recall, the last time," he said "that when it came it would come suddenly — and soon. Pronto. It came that way. Suddenly and soon. Truth? Of course. Verdad de verdades. Truth of truths. Just like what we said. You took no part. We thought you had the heart for Batista. You were so silent and unexpressive. But Junia said, no."

Right On The Line

NEW YORK — I've been pretty upset ever since learning that the world is pear shaped, not an oblate spheroid. "Oblate spheroid" always packed a lot of class. Made a fellow feel he was part of something nifty, like MIT's polo time. Or way up there, in the Elks.

Pear shaped is somehow demeaning. It's a good shape, I guess, but only for a pear. Or a ted dropped from the lips of an Ed Murrow. But on men, women and worlds, pear shaped looks bad.

THE DISCOVERY was made by a prying satellite, the Vanguard, which has been meddling about in space and gathering spatial gossip since last year. You'd think if it couldn't find something nice to say to us, after all this time, it would just shut up and enjoy the ride. But no. It's like saying to a girl who has excruciatingly laid off chocolate fudge sundaes for a year, "Hi, chubby, you're putting on a little lard, ain't you?"

We're worried over what the Sputnik is going to call us. Knock-kneed, probably.

LINCOLN's month brings with it, naturally, a new wealth of Lincoln, most of it reverent but some of it as searching as examinations of the martyr president's thought of shipping all slaves to reservations in Florida or to the southwestern U. S. which would have made all their descendants resort hotel keepers and oil barons.

Lincoln remains, without contest, the most-written about man since Christ. There has been a book or comprehensive article, or tract, or play or picture about him published on an average of he has a heart for Castro."

"I HAD HEART for neither," I said. "I never took a position with you. I did not cry out for either man. I listened. Let us arrange this straight. Then we can talk. It is not my business to take a position about another man's country. What could I contribute to either side?"

"I will say that I did not believe Castro could prevail, because it seemed impossible. Not enough money, a higgledy-piggledy army, wrong ammunition for the wrong guns against an entrenched, walled and solid dictator. The goat and the elephant. It seemed hopeless."

"But now it has come out richly," said Josefina. "We are all going back home. You have a point: Cuba's pains are not your concern."

"I didn't say they were not my concern. I said they were not my business. Any man is concerned for brutality and murder. You fought that down and swept the place clean. True. But has total order resulted?"

EL TORITO, a small young man with thin wrists and slender fingers, polished, small shoes and elaborately combed hair, moved in.

"Not yet," he said. "But can you imagine our Fidel will install a regime of murder and pillage when so many have died and been tortured to sponge away those obscenities? Naturally not. For a few days, even a few weeks, there will be the habitual result of sudden change: some violence. It always happens."

"Was the French Revolution a dainty thing? But once we have quelled the dissidents and punished the wicked, you will see. The world will see. Fidel is an educated, civilized and prettily brained man. His brain is an instrument for good. Meanwhile, here, in New York, no longer exiles, we celebrate. Dance with us, share a cup with us, rejoice in a decent man coming to power over a monster."

"It's a bad word, Torito," I said. "Power. Best say a good man came to opportunity for good. Let us see how that opportunity is employed."

Two hours later, I left the rejuvenated club. The last words were like the last words three months and eight months ago. Hopeful, proudful words.

"You will see."

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK — Mrs. Shirley Morabito has tasted 700 medicines in the last three years — and never felt better in her life.

In fact, she hasn't missed work a single day because of illness.

Trying out pills and potions destined for other people is the unusual career of Mrs. Morabito, a medical gourmet with one of the most educated palates in the wonderful world of drugs.

She is chief medicine taster for the Charles Pfizer Pharmaceutical Co.

"IT IS ENDLESSLY fascinating," said Mrs. Morabito. "The taste test is the last step in research. No matter how beneficial a new medicine may be, it has to taste right today to win public acceptance."

"If people won't take it because they dislike the taste, it can't do them any good."

There are only four basic tastes—salt, sweet, sour and bitter. But they can be masked with thousands of different blended flavors.

Unfortunately for mankind, most medicines, new or old, have a bitter taste.

The average person can detect a bitter taste in one fifth of an ounce of caffeine mixed in a quart of water. Mrs. Morabito can detect the same amount of caffeine mixed with 25 quarts of water.

But Mrs. Morabito doesn't depend on her own fine palate. What suits one person may not suit another. So she has assembled and trained a test panel of 40 expert co-workers to help her.

THE PROBLEM of taste in new children's medicines is even more critical. To assist her in field testing these she has a juvenile jury of some 600 children of company employees.

Both color and taste play a big role in the psychology of medicine.

"Most everyone seems to dislike a brown-colored medicine," said Mrs. Morabito.

"Older people often like a mint-flavored medicine. Children prefer fruit flavors. They like red and orange colors, and they like medicines with a cherry or orange flavor."

"But the color and taste must match. If you gave them a blue medicine with an orange flavor, they wouldn't like it. It would confuse them."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — One after another the Senators of the Space Committee had a crack at Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy for complicating the missile program with too many different types of missiles instead of concentrating on a few lines, like soap. I could see Senator Clinton P. Anderson shaking his lionine head.

After a while, the New Mexico solon deserted his seat among the mighty and came over to sit beside me at the press table. Out of the corner of his mouth he whispered:

"I can't help feeling sorry for this poor guy. He gets belted for having too many types of missiles, then the very Senator who belted him lashes out again with: 'Why did you eliminate the one in my State?'"

I deduced that by the "poor guy" he meant the very rich former soap tycoon in the hot seat.

"I wonder," I whispered back, "how McElroy feels about being belted for not doing, then belted again for doing?"

"Why don't you ask him?" suggested Senator Anderson.

OPPORTUNITY came sooner than I anticipated because Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson got a summons to come to the floor of the Senate. The Democratic Leader left, and Senator Alexander Wiley, of Wisconsin, the second ranking Republican, scrambled up and followed him.

I fancied something urgent must have come up, and asked Wiley why he was leaving. Without winking, he replied: "I'm going out to watch Johnson."

A recess came soon. As I was trying to push my way toward the Secretary of Defense I encountered his daughter, Nancy, who is a very cute little trick with the appropriate nickname of "Bitsie."

"What this question needs," I told Bitsie, "is a good intermediary. What don't you ask your old man—I mean your distinguished father—how it feels to be asked: 'Why don't you cut out some of these missiles, and why did you cut out the one in my State?'"

"It's too complicated to me," laughed Bitsie. "You'd better try it yourself."

I did. The Defense Secretary gave me his famous round-eyed look and replied: "I will confine myself to saying that I am glad you asked me. It is a very interesting question."

It is indeed a very interesting question. It is one of the big things wrong with our missile program. The Defense Department receives terrible pressure from Congress to reduce types of missiles, and even more terrible pressure from the same source when it cuts one out.

THE MEMBERS of Congress aren't playing this damned-if-you-do-and-damned-if-you-don't game because they enjoy it. They are under terrible pressure themselves. The instant there is even a breath of a rumor about the type of missile being "phased out"—which is the latest gobbledygook for cancelled—they are swarmed by the Bulging Briefcase Brigade.

The Boys of the Bulging Briefcase Brigade are manufacturers, their agents, lobbyists, representatives of chambers of commerce, contractors, sub-contractors, sub-sub-contractors, and opportunity opportunity-grabbers who hope to become contractors. From their briefcases they pull statistics showing that the "phase out" of a certain missile will wreck the economy of a whole region, throw the kiddies out of schools, and drive the womenfolk to the streets.

Members of Congress fear that if they don't shift some of this pressure to the Defense Department they'll be "phased out" themselves. This is indeed a dark thought, but the picture isn't all black.

If nothing else, "phase out" has contributed a lovely euphemism to our language. It sounds so much more genteel than vulgar expressions it has supplanted.

I wish it had been in vogue in my sensitive cub reporter days when I used to get "phased out" by so many sadistic city editors.

Moon Crater Cause Gets New Theory

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—A moon-shaking argument is stirring astronomical circles. It is aimed at the widely held theory that colliding meteors dug out the innumerable craters in the surface of that satellite which people may be visiting before too long.

How could the theory possibly be true, argued Dr. Zdenek Kopal, a famous astronomer, when you keep in mind that the moon has massive mountains with at least 28 peaks that are higher than any on earth? Such collisions would smash the moon mountains to smithereens!

Take just one moon crater as an example—the Alphonsus crater, he said. It has a diameter of approximately 80 miles. Imagine the impact of the meteor which dug that one out! Kopal, imagined it with mathematics comparing it to the force of the heaviest and most destructive quake that ever shook our earth.

Figures Impact

He figured that the force of the impact would have been 1,000 times greater than the worst earthquake. Therefore, it would have caused a moonquake of stupendous proportions, especially since the meteor would "penetrate at least a few hundred yards into the lunar crust before total vaporization of its mass and the ejection of crater walls by the ensuing explosion."

Now, consider that the moon has tens of thousands of craters which have diameters of one mile or more, and the largest among them have diameters of 150 miles.

"One is bound in question how any steep mountains or ridges anywhere on the moon could have survived such a long series of sudden and devastating disturbances," Kopal said.

Propounds New Theory
But what if some of the craters, at least, had been dug out by colliding heads of comets rather than meteors? He asked in propounding a new theory with which to challenge the meteor theory that is held by a majority of astronomers.

A comet's head is a loose conglomeration of frozen hydrocarbons mixed with unstable chemical compounds. On impact, it would "behave like high explosives" and release chemical energy in addition to the energy of its impact with the moon. But this force would be infinitely less than that of a meteor, because a comet's head has no tensile strength.

Cook Offers House Three Bills On PSC

Measures Would Help State Agency Handling Many Cases On Rates

ANNAPOLIS—Three bills and a resolution concerning the Public Service Commission were introduced in the House of Delegates today by Del. Noel Speir Cook of Frostburg.

Cook said the measures were introduced as a result of recommendations of a Legislative Council committee of which he was a member. The bills follow:

1. To increase the ability of the Public Service Commission to cope with the rising number of rate application cases.
2. Provide for increases in the staff and facilities of the commission along with a full-time chairman to be paid $15,000. Currently the chairman works part-time and is paid $9,000. The measure would also require that one of the three members be a certified public accountant due to the complex nature of the work.
3. Provide his own staff for the people's counsel and to limit utilities deductible expenses to the amount spent by the commission on a case. Cook pointed out that in the last 10 years the commission found utilities had spent over $2,000,000 on cases while the PSC outlay in the same cases was $223,000.

Would Continue Study
The resolution calls for the appointment of another special committee which would continue the PSC study in relation to money being spent and unregulated subsidiaries of regulated utilities.

Del. Cook also reported the Ways and Means Committee has given a favorable report on his bill to allow Miners Hospital of Frostburg to use funds from uncollected bills instead of turning the money over to the state. He anticipates the House will pass the bill this week.

The first formal resistance to a departmental reorganization sought by Gov. Tawes is to be aired today.

To Hear Protests

The House Ways and Means Committee planned to hear protests from a group of Maryland Travel Council representatives who have objections to an administration-backed bill to abolish the State Department of Information.

The bill calls for creation of a new Department of Economic Development to take over promotional work now handled by the Department of Information and the State Planning Commission.

Hotel, motel and other officials of the tourist industry expressed fear yesterday to Del. Loveless (D-Prince Georges), sponsor of the bill, that the Department of Information's tourist promotion work will be slighted.

They said they were also concerned that the move would cost department director Earle R. Poorbaugh his job.

"Mr. Poorbaugh has done a lot of groundwork which might suffer under the bureaucratic setup of this bill," said Edward A. Romeo, manager of the Treadway Maryland Inn in Annapolis and a director of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Assn. and of the Maryland Travel Council.

No Job Assurance

Loveless said he could give them no assurance about Poorbaugh's job since the personnel who will man the department is a matter for Gov. Tawes to decide. He did say, however, that the bill envisions an expanded program of tourist as well as industrial promotion.

The Ways and Means Committee had already approved the bill with plans to bring it to the House floor today. But Del. Boone (D-Balto County) agreed to hold it in committee until after the travel interests could be heard by the committee.

Personnel Commissioner Russell S. Davis is going to urge that the Legislature make two changes in the State hiring and promoting rules.

He told the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday that he is aware they are controversial. One would reduce the preference given war veterans in being hired. The other would permit a department head to promote anyone who passed a test rather than from among only the five highest scorers.

Carl Sterne Gets New Post

W. Carl Sterne, a former local resident, has been promoted by the Armour Company to assistant district credit manager for the firm's general office in Chicago.

Sterne's new job consists of handling credits all over the United States. His former post was assistant manager of credit in Columbus, Ohio, for the past 15 years.

Before being promoted to Columbus, he worked on the staff of the Cumberland office.

A graduate of Allegany High School, Class of 1935, he was an outstanding athlete in football, basketball and baseball. He is also a graduate of Calhoun's Business School.

Sterne is married to the former Mary M. Hall. They are the parents of two sons and two daughters. He is the son of Mrs. O. S. Sterne of 514 Beall Street and the late Mr. Sterne.

Man Trying To Get $1,440 In Overpayments

A former local man, now serving with the Air Force in California, has come up with a legal problem for Allegany County authorities.

The man in a letter to State's Attorney James S. Getty wants to know how to go about stopping support payments in Circuit Court and how to collect money he feels is due him.

The former local man said that in April of 1949 he was ordered in Allegany County Circuit Court to begin payments of $20 monthly on a criminal charge.

In the letter he informs Getty that it was his understanding that the payments were to be made for a period of five years and that in May of 1954 he would be notified by the Court Clerk to stop payments.

The GI says he has never missed a payment in the past 11 years and feels that he is entitled to the money he has sent to court since May of 1954.

Getty said today that the court order shows the man was ordered to make the payments for only five years and plans to write the GI today suggesting that he stop payments.

The state's attorney noted that a check with the Clerk of Court shows the man has been sending $20 monthly and that the money has been forwarded to the second party involved in the criminal case.

Getty said that he can find no legal way for the GI to be reimbursed for the "over payments," which amounts to approximately $1,440.

Elks Honor Past Exalted Ruler Group

Cumberland Lodge 63, BPO Elks, last night observed "Past Exalted Rulers Night," balloted on seven candidates and approved six life memberships.

Filling the chairs were Walter A. Fraley, George A. Caswell, J. Douglas Horon, Michael F. O'Neill, Earl Nonnenmann, Bruce M. Mackey, Lester Deneen and Joseph P. Stokem. Other past exalted rulers present included John J. Rowan, John H. Mesner, John M. Robb, Harry M. Thomas, William J. Aumiller, and Arthur B. Gibson.

The group was honored with dinner before the business meeting, at which time William L. McKenzie, Woodrow W. Thomas, William H. Larry, Thomas E. Coyle, Raymond M. Baker, C. Glenn Watson Jr. and William V. Smith were accepted for membership.

Life memberships were approved for Roy F. Ilnebaugh, W. Edwin Piper, James M. Reed, P. W. Traynor, Edward F. Hanlon and Chester V. Walker.

Thomas was presented a past exalted ruler's pin by John E. Mertens, exalted ruler, who announced that "Old Times and Zero Hour Night" will be observed February 18. Twenty-five year pins will be given to Lester Deneen, Elmer I. Pearson, James W. Rexroad, Daniel Y. Browne, James H. Brown, Paul M. Fletcher, Edward J. Wilson, Frederick T. Dotson and J. Elmer Bopp.

The lodge will initiate candidates March 4 and elect officers March 18.

Frostburger Hurt In Crash
Timothy T. Athey, 43, of 11 Beall Street, Frostburg, is reported in "good" condition today at Sacred Heart Hospital where he was admitted last night following an automobile accident.

Attaches said Athey sustained a possible fractured collarbone and fractured ribs.

Treated at the hospital was Fred Leroy Labor, 43, of RD 1, Frostburg. Police said the man sustained lacerations of the head and face and was walking around the wreckage when State Police arrived on the scene.

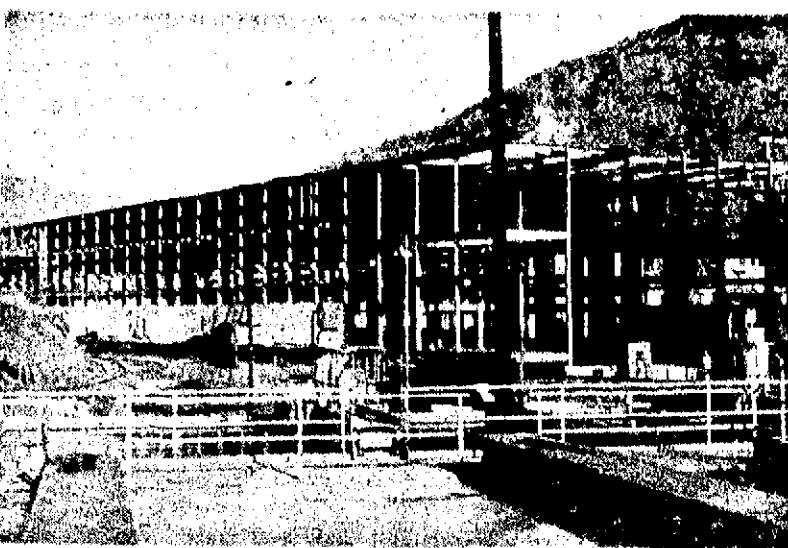

Trooper Charles Snow, who is continuing an investigation, said State Police received a call about 8:05 p. m. yesterday and were informed of the accident.

Athey drove the car off U. S. Route 40 onto State Route 53 (Winchester Road) and had rounded a curve when his car ran off the right side of the highway. Athey attempted to get the car back on the highway, but it went into a right-hand skid and turned over on its top.

The driver was thrown from the car onto the highway, police said. The two men were taken to the hospital in the State Police ambulance.

Television Meeting Scheduled Tonight
Lee Marple, president of the Peoples Community TV Association of Cumberland, said a meeting of the association will be held at 8 p. m. at the City Hall Auditorium.

The prime purpose of the meeting, Marple said, is to decide whether or not to continue the drive for a UHF-TV translator station here.

NEW LUKE BUILDING — This building will house the two huge, new paper machines to be installed at the Luke Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company as part of the current $50,000,000 expansion program. The machines, capable of turning out a mile of paper 20 feet wide every two minutes, are designed to double the production of the mill, raising its output from 400 tons of full paper a day to 800 tons. The first of the two machines is expected to be in operation in 1960 with the second machine to follow.

Luke Expansion Program Reported Moving Ahead

This is the first of two articles on the extensive expansion program and the operations of the Luke Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company. The plant plays one of the most important roles in the economy of the tri-state section and is in the midst of a project to double its paper output.

An 11-story structure housing a new power center is nearing completion and the giant building to house two big new paper machines has taken shape as the $50,000,000 expansion program at the Luke Mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company moves along on schedule.

The power center, with its 20,000-kilowatt turbo generator, 1,500-pound steam boiler and 1500-pound recovery furnace, is expected to go into service at intervals through this year.

The first of the two new paper machines is scheduled to start up early in 1960 with the second machine to follow. The two machines, together capable of turning out a mile of paper 20 feet wide every two minutes, will increase the mill's capacity to 800 tons a day, double the present production.

New Finishing Room In Use
Since plans for the construction program were announced in September 1958, a new finishing room where rolls of paper are trimmed into sheets has been put into operation. Truck loading as well as rail loading facilities have been improved.

New bleaching facilities and a new chlorine dioxide generating plant to produce a brighter pulp for the mill's fine printing papers have been completed and are in operation. One phase of a waste treatment program designed to help clean up the Potomac River is in use.

Another, and larger, waste treatment plant is being built by the Upper Potomac River Commission with funds from a bond issue underwritten by the paper company.

Located downstream from Westport, this activated sludge waste treatment plant is designed to handle industrial wastes from the mill as well as domestic sewage from the Tri-Towns of Luke, Westport and Piedmont.

Scores of Changes
There have been scores of other changes of a varied nature that go hand in hand with an expansion program the size of that being carried out at Luke.

At the same time, existing paper machines and their supporting facilities are being improved and modernized as part of the constant battle to improve the quality of the paper, largely categorized as "fine paper," that is turned out every day.

Employing 2,100 people, the mill pays out yearly about $12,250,000 in wages and benefits. To meet this payroll as well as other expenses involved in an operation of this size, the paper mill, with its seven Fourdrinier paper machines, turns out and sells almost 140,000 tons of high grade paper a year.

Simply stated, to make paper on a Fourdrinier paper machine, (Continued on Page 12)

International Event Set By Girl Scouts

West Side Group Plans Program For Feb. 21 At School

Final plans were made at a meeting of the West Side Neighborhood Association of the Cumberland Girl Scout Council to hold an international program at West Side School Saturday, February 21, from 1 to 4 p. m.

Each of the 15 troops in the neighborhood will present a five-minute entertainment based on traditions and customs of a chosen country. Articles from these countries will be on display.

The committee will be comprised of Mrs. William Courtney, Mrs. Joseph Coulthart and Mrs. Gorman E. Getty.

Dinner Scheduled

At the neighborhood meeting, Mrs. Frank Leger was chairman and Mrs. George Garlitz was acting secretary.

It was announced that each troop will present its contribution for the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund during the international program.

Reports were heard on the annual parent-daughter dinner to be held during Girl Scout Week in March. Separate dinners will be held this year by the Brawley and Intermediate Scout groups in the West Side Neighborhood.

The Brownie dinner will be held Tuesday, March 10, in SS. Peter and Paul Hall, with the committee being composed of Mrs. Jack Rowan, Mrs. W. F. Washburn, Mrs. Fred Wilson and Mrs. F. Harry Mills Jr.

Staff Chied

The intermediates and their parents will have their dinner on Thursday, March 13, in the Coillion Room of the Elks Club. Arrangements are being planned by a committee composed of Mrs. Walter Fraley, Mrs. George Caswell and Mrs. Z. P. Zimowski.

The neighborhood officers cited the staff of the Yardsick, the monthly council news bulletin. These neighborhood committee appointments were made: Juliette Low chairman; Mrs. William Courtney; skating party chairman, Mrs. George Garlitz; and intermediate planning board chairman, Mrs. A. J. Feigus.

Man Awaits Action Of Hampshire Jury

James Douglas Taylor, 24, who gave his address as 33 Park Avenue, Frostburg, is being held in the Hampshire County Jail at Romney for action of the next session of grand jury there.

Taylor was charged by West Virginia authorities with robbery and is being detained in jail under $1,000 bond.

Tawes Hears Laboratory Plan For Area

Governor Makes No Promises On District Program

Gov. J. Millard Tawes today held a conference with key Western Maryland legislators and the heads of two state departments on the possibility of establishing a natural resources laboratory in this end of the state.

Del. Fred B. Driscoll, chairman of the Allegany County delegation, reported the governor discussed the matter with the state senators and delegation chairmen of the four western-most counties.

Also appearing were Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the Department of Forests and Parks; Dr. L. Eugene Cronin, director of the Department of Research and Education; and Ernest A. Vaucl, director of the State Game and Inland Fish Commission.

No Commitment
Del. Driscoll said while the Governor was sympathetic to the laboratory, he would not make a commitment until conferring with his financial advisers.

No legislation is necessary for the establishment of this laboratory, but the Governor must put funds for it in the budget.

The Governor was told that it will take $39,000 to get the laboratory started, and it would be a branch of the State Department of Research and Education.

The activities of this installation would be adapted to work with natural resources, such as forests, game, fish and conservation of water.

It would be utilized with the resources of this area in the same manner as the laboratory at Sitomons Island is used for research for the Chesapeake Bay and the lower Potomac River.

Others Give Support

Del. Reed said Dr. Cronin, Vaughn and Kaylor gave strong support to the move.

The Governor did remark that he felt the state should do all it could to develop any particular section, adding that it would be a "fine investment."

Attending besides Del. Driscoll and the department heads were Sen. Bernard I. Gonder, Garrett County; Sen. Charles M. See, Allegany County; Sen. George E. Snyder, Washington County; and Sen. Samuel W. Barriek, Frederick County, and delegation chairmen of those counties.

A possible site for the laboratory has been mentioned as being at Frostburg State Teachers College, but in the event the $39,000 is appropriated the Department of Research and Education would make the selection.

Church To End Revival Series

Rev. Otis L. Parish, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, will close a series of revival services with a sermon Saturday morning.

The services which opened Monday is the first step in "Operation Thrust," a five-month evangelistic program directed by the church's West Virginia headquarters.

The plan also calls for two "Evangelism Days" on February 28 and March 28 and for a major evangelistic campaign starting March 29.

The subject for Saturday's service will be "Why Call Ye My Lord, Lord?"

Police Probing Car Theft Case

West Virginia State Police at Romney are investigating a stolen automobile case.

Police said Clyde Bean, of Romney, stated yesterday that his 1956 two-door sedan was taken from in front of the Romney Moose Home.

Church To Mark Young People's Service Sunday

Young People's Sunday will be observed at First Presbyterian Church this Sunday at the 11 a. m. worship service.

Members of the Westminster and Chapel Choirs will sing under the direction of Herman Smith, minister of music. Miss Kathryn Shaffer will play the organ.

Participating will be Offutt Johnson, call to worship, invocation and the Lord's Prayer; Miss Katherine Keogel, the Psalter; reading; Victor Reuschlein, scripture lesson; and Robert E. Pence, will have the morning prayer.

Members of John Lower's Senior High Church Class will assist with the ushering under the direction of Howard Frickey.

Rev. Emil G. Teyssier, assistant pastor and advisor of the Senior High Westminster Fellowship, will have the sermon, "An Intermediate Faith." Rev. Maurice D. Robertson, pastor, will preside at the service.

Boy Scout Troop 13 and Explorer Scout Post 13 will attend this service as a unit, as this is American Boy Scout Sunday.

Railroaders File Protest To Retirement

Action Ruled In Federal Court On Labor Agreement

A suit has been filed in U. S. District Court for Maryland in Baltimore contesting the compulsory retirement for engineers and firemen employed on the Western Maryland Railway.

A number of engineers had to retire Sunday as a result of an agreement between the Brotherhood of Railroad Firemen and Engineers with the railroad.

The agreement calls for the compulsory retirement upon reaching the age of 65 years.

Through his counsel, Max R. Israelson and Richter, Lord and Levy, Baltimore, the plaintiffs, J. W. Kirby, an Eastern Division engineer, has docketed a suit against this agreement.

Charging contravention of the Railway Labor Act, and seeks a temporary restraining order to halt its enactment. The railroad and the brotherhood are the defendants.

Israelson said the court action is an effort to declare illegal the agreement purportedly made between the brotherhood and the company on August 14, 1958.

The declaration further disputes the authority of the brotherhood and its representatives to bargain away the rights of its members, and seeks to determine if the union negotiators acted in good faith, the attorney stated.

Kirby, who worked out of Hagerstown, has filed the suit in behalf of himself and others similarly interested in the retirement feature of the working agreement.

Eight engineers and firemen on the Western Division of the railroad were forced to take their retirement as of Sunday, local sources reported. They were from Cumberland and Elkins.

Israelson said a conference is scheduled tomorrow in the federal court at Baltimore on the suit.

Home Damaged Badly By Fire

Considerable property damage was caused to the home of Belmont Althey, Uhl Highway, last night when fire broke out in the dwelling.

Firemen of North Branch received an initial call about 8:45 p. m. They called upon volunteers of Bedford Road for assistance in quenching the blaze, which was confined to the basement and first floor of the two-story residence.

Firemen used water from the booster tanks. Volunteers from Bedford Road returned to the fire hall about 10:45 p. m., although firemen from North Branch were still on the scene about 11 p. m.

Club Will Mark Truckers Night

"Truckers Night" will be observed by the Tri-State Traffic Club Wednesday, February 11, at 6:30 p. m. in the Cumberland Elks Home, according to J. F. Lewis, president.

The speaker will be William C. Irving, president of the Harris Motor Express and a director of the American Trucking Association.

Lewis said a committee from the club has been appointed to set up the local observance of National Transportation Week from May 16 to May 16.

LaVale Firemen Call Meeting For Tomorrow

A special meeting of the LaVale Volunteer Fire Department will be held tomorrow at 7 p. m. in the fire hall, according to Lloyd Smith, president. Smith said it is necessary that a majority of the members be in attendance.

Glass Plant Negotiations At Local Level

Seven Group Sessions Held Prior To General Meeting

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Piece-meal negotiations, aimed at resolving local disputes, occupied the attention today of union and management representatives trying to end the 123-day strike of 13,000 Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. workers.

Robert Donahoe, regional director of the Federal Mediation Service, who has been keeping both sides at the bargaining table, said seven separate meetings were held—and some are still going on — "to resolve local plant problems."

It has been the local issues primarily that have kept nine Pittsburgh Plate plants shut down for four months. Wages are not an issue.

Cumberland Finished
Both management and spokesmen for the United Glass and Ceramic Workers Union agreed on the amount of a pay boost not long after the strike began Oct. 6.

The seven meetings were on a city level. Donahoe said these involving workers at Cumberland, Md.; Clarksburg, W. Va.; and Ford City, Pa., plants finished their work last night. Negotiations involving issues at plants in Creighton, Pa.; Henryetta, Okla.; Crystal City, Mo. and Mt. Vernon, Ohio, occupied the entire morning.

Neither union nor management would comment.

Donahoe said "both sides are still far apart, and it is slow work resolving the problems." He added that a general bargaining session will be held when all local meetings are completed.

"The results of the separate plant talks then will be assessed," Donahoe told a reporter.

End Not In Sight

An end to the walkout, already having a serious effect on same auto production, is not in sight although Donahoe declared:

"I hope I'm wrong."

Most of the discussions now are aimed at wrapping all the issues into one package, Donahoe said, "so we can see where we are heading."

"There are a lot of ends to tie together," Donahoe said last night. "It will be a few days, it seems, before we can coordinate them and get back on the right road."

Negotiations resumed yesterday after a five-day recess. The United Glass and Ceramic Workers Union had insisted upon the recess to ask its 13,000 members at nine struck plants how they felt about going back to work and submitting unresolved issues to binding arbitration.

That had been the last company proposal before the recess. Union President Ralph Reiser gave the answer yesterday.

The membership, he said, prefers to continue the negotiations, with arbitration if necessary.

"The situation is like a zero to zero baseball game," Reiser told a newsman. "We're just waiting for a break in the game."

Differ On Points
"We want to settle the strike. We're not overlooking any possibility. The company has not seen fit to settle all of the issues by arbitration. So we'll try to eliminate some of them through negotiations."

The company has listed three points for arbitration after work resumes — production standards, the incentive system, and the Creighton, Pa., plant's seniority system.

The union wants 11 points arbitrated, but some overlap. The problem is reaching agreement on the scope of arbitration, although Reiser indicated that yesterday's session skirted the issue in favor of reviewing opposing positions.

There was no comment from the company team of negotiators, headed by Donald H. Sherbondy, director of industrial relations.

Donahoe, however, said some new issues had come up. But he would not elaborate.

The strike has forced Chrysler Corp. and American Motors Co. to cut back production and lay off about 35,000 employees. The two firms depend on Pittsburgh for most of their automotive glass.

Closing Bill Gets Approval

Allegany County's delegates today gave a favorable report to House Bill 127 which would authorize the closing of several county offices on Saturday.

Introduced today was a bill sponsored by Del. Fred B. Driscoll that would allow the Board of Allegany County Commissioners to hire engineers, attorneys or architects without having to go through competitive bidding.

Del. Driscoll said this bill is an emergency measure and he has assured it rapid approval in the House of Delegates. State Sen. Charles M. See also said he will push the measure through the Senate.

The House Bill 127 was amended to allow any office under the jurisdiction of the county coming to Lloyd Smith, president. Smith said it is necessary that a majority of the members be in attendance.

Committee Work Holds Top Attention

Only One Measure Near Passage Stage In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Legislature resolved itself into committee work today as the third full week of its 60-day session neared an end. Only one bill was at passage stage.

The Senate scheduled a morning session so members of the Roads Committee could depart in the afternoon on an inspection tour of the Parkersburg and Marshall County areas. A subcommittee of the Senate Finance Committee was scheduled to start a weekend tour of the state's mental institutions.

Early floor sessions are scheduled Friday so the remainder of the legislators can get a start for Morgantown and a Saturday visit to the new West Virginia Medical Center.

Limit Road Stops

Scheduled for a vote in the House was a measure to limit commercial facilities, such as gas stations and restaurants, along the rights-of-way of controlled-access highways in the state, like the Interstate roads. The measure was amended by delegates Wednesday to give the state the right to enter into such business or provide leases for them.

In floor action Wednesday, an unsuccessful effort was made to kill a measure to create a Small Claims Court for Kanawha County.

Most of the interest Wednesday centered on a meeting of the Joint House-Senate Democratic Steering Committee and majority party caucuses which followed the regular sessions.

Senate President Ralph J. Bean said he outlined to Democratic senators a proposal to overcome differences between the House and Senate in raising additional funds which would provide an additional $3,500,000.

It would be in the form of a payroll-income tax of 1 per cent of an individual's earnings above $5,000 annually.

It was learned the leadership proposed at the House caucus methods for raising additional revenue but nothing concrete was agreed on and another meeting will be held next week.

Some Switching

Authoritative sources said many delegates who were in favor of a severance tax prior to the meeting appeared to be more in favor of the payroll income tax as a substitute.

Del. Hobart Booth (D-Fayette) moved in the House to postpone indefinitely action on the same claims court measure. He called it the forerunner of legislation designed to kill off the Justice of peace system. The motion was defeated on a roll call 56-40 vote.

The bill was at amendment stage today and normally would be up for a final vote Friday.

The House passed and sent to the Senate on a 98-0 vote a measure to provide that excess bridge toll collections above those needed to pay off bonds would be channeled into the secondary road fund program.

The Senate passed and sent to the governor for signature on a 26-5 ballot a measure creating a new judicial circuit for Nicholas County.

Luke Expansion

millions of small, water-borne wood fibers turn into a sheet as they flow on a moving endless belt of wire cloth. The sheet then passes through press and drier sections for removal of water and drying, and through a calendar section where the paper is smoothed and the desired finish or gloss is imparted.

In Best Books Should a coated paper be desired, another step is introduced to the process whereby coating materials are applied to the paper. After further drying, the paper is put through a supercalendering process for smoothing and imparting a final glossy surface.

Paper made at the Luke mill finds its way into some of the country's best known books, magazines, encyclopedias, trade journals, the labels on nationally known brands of canned goods, covers of paper-bound books, cigarette packages, and many other uses.

Although fine printing papers are the basic products, if you ever have mailed or received a message on a government postcard, chances are it was made at Luke. There also is the possibility that kraft paper used as a basic component in the laminated plastic tops of your kitchen or your favorite lunch counter, was produced at this paper mill in Western Maryland.

Here they make paper that is used for box wrap (for example, the attractively printed paper that is glued to the outside of cardboard candy or gift boxes), booklets, brochures, calendars, catalogs, premiums and annual reports.

To make its products, the mill requires tons of chemicals, large quantities of fuel and great supplies of certain basic raw materials, principally water, often referred to as the lifeblood of the paper industry, and wood.

Purchases Huge During the past business year, which ended October 31, the Luke mill alone spent $6,000,000 for 62,000 tons of chemicals and other production materials, some costing as much as $1,600 a ton.

Of this figure, $5,000,000 was spent for such items as clay, titanium, starch and synthetic resins which are used to coat paper, giving it a high gloss and affecting its opacity and color.

Another half a million dollars is spent for chemicals used in cooking wood until the chips become pulp.

Chlorine, usually thought of by the layman in connection with water purification, is used here for that purpose too, but many times more is used in the process that bleaches woodpulp from its original brownish color so that while paper can be expensive involved in the $50,000,000, manufactured. It adds up to 10,000 tons of chlorine and caustic at a price of $1,000,000.

Mrs. Ada Parker
Mrs. Ada Blanche Parker, 73, of 112 North Smallwood Street, died yesterday in Sacred Heart Hospital where she had been a patient since January 9.

Born at Hazen, Md., she was a daughter of the late Clarence and Hannah (Welsh) Clites.

Surviving are a son, George C. Parker, McMillen Highway; four brothers, William and Albert Clites, both of Lake Gordon; Robert Clites, Baltimore, and Earl Clites, Ridgeley; six sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Gray and Mrs. Mary Matthews, both of this city; Mrs. Margaret Ware, Mrs. Maude Ryan and Miss Mabel Clites, all of Lake Gordon, and Mrs. Fannie Sachs, Wiley Ford, and a grandchild.

The body is at the George Funeral Home where the family will receive friends from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

Services will be conducted at the funeral home on Saturday at 2 p. m. by Rev. William J. Cox, pastor of Holy Cross Episcopal Church. Interment will be in Sunset Memorial Park.

Judge Fraley Will Sit In Local Court

During the vacation of Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris of Circuit Court hearings in cases will be conducted here by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley, of Oakland, on Tuesdays and Fridays.

A notice posted at the Court House informs the Bar Association that Judge Fraley will be willing to hear cases on other calendaring process for smoothing and imparting a final glossy surface.

Intruder Enters Midland School

Maryland State Police are investigating a breaking and entering at the Midland Elementary School.

Trooper Milton Hart said the school was entered sometime Sunday night.

A small safe was cracked and approximately $22 in cash was stolen. Trooper Hart said the intruder also stole some food items.

from dozens of suppliers in the East, Midwest and South, the 200,000 tons of coal fed annually to three existing boilers, used in the production of high pressure steam and the manufacture of electricity, come from mines in nearby Maryland and West Virginia. Better than $1,250,000 thus finds its way into the pockets of people living within a short distance of the mill.

Almost another quarter of a million dollars goes for fuel oil and natural gas. Railroads and trucking firms receive close to $3,000,000 a year in shipping charges. Finishing and packing suppliers are paid $700,000 yearly for such items as lumber for skids, steel strapping and heavy wrapping paper. Fells and Four-machines add another three-quarters of a million dollars to the annual bill. On top of that come state and local taxes of close to $300,000.

These bills and payroll plus $3,000,000 in maintenance materials and miscellaneous supplies add up to almost $30,000,000 annually, not counting any of the so that while paper can be expensive involved in the $50,000,000, manufactured. It adds up to 10,000 tons of chlorine and caustic at a price of $1,000,000.

Tax Measure Goes Before Legislature

One West Virginia Bill Would Provide Forgiveness Of Fees

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Two bills to increase taxes and one to forgive back taxes were among 27 measures introduced today in the West Virginia Legislature.

Sen. O. H. Ballard (D-Mercer) sponsored a measure which would increase the privilege tax on purchases of automobiles from two to three per cent. He said the $2,000,000 of new revenue would go for roads.

Dels. David Solomon (D-Monongalia) and James Laught (D-Wood) proposed to increase the surtax levied under the gross sales tax on coal and other natural resource producers, manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers and certain public utilities and amusement from three-tenths to four-tenths of their present tax rates.

There was no estimate on the amount of additional revenue this would bring in.

Senate President Ralph J. Bean and Minority Leader John Carrigan (R-Marshall) co-sponsored a measure to forgive all taxes and penalties due on bank deposits and money for the five years prior to last Nov. 4 unless an assessment had been made. Money of deposits were exempted from taxation by a constitutional amendment approved Nov. 4.

Among the other bills introduced was one by Ballard to up the maximum speed to 70 miles an hour and set a minimum speed of 40 miles per hour on the West Virginia Turnpike.

Other bills would: —Require sellers to report the names of purchasers of explosives or gunpowder to the sheriff of the county in which the receiver resides.

—Require the State Aeronautics Commission to license all privately owned aircraft in West Virginia at a fee of $2 each yearly.

—Provide that the minimum annual payment under the teacher retirement system be 560 times the number of years the teacher has served.

—Set up a 40-hour, five-day work week for municipal police under civil service and require payment of overtime.

County Board Gets Complaint

A complaint was received Tuesday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners concerning the clogging of three culverts along the Dogwood Flat Road in the Barton area.

It was stated that a firm engaged in coal stripping operations was responsible for clogging the culverts and causing surface water to wash out the roadway and also damage property adjacent to the road.

The matter was referred to Harry Skelly, roads supervisor, for an investigation.

About one-half of California's entire land area is publicly owned. National forests, parks, Harry Skelly, roads supervisor, and monuments cover 23,030,000 acres.

Worker Gets $20,000 In Damage Case

Award Made By Jury In U. S. Hearing Held In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Federal Court jury awarded a railroad machinist $20,000 damages yesterday after noting that his own negligence contributed to an accident in which he was injured.

The verdict was awarded to John R. Brown, 33, of Glen Gardens, Anne Arundel County. He was injured Feb. 25, 1957 while working at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Locust Point grain elevator.

Brown contended he was given an unsafe place to work as he attempted to adjust a hoist of a mechanical device used for moving cars at the elevator. He testified he was startled when a large gear in front of him started to move and he threw up his arm.

The machinist told the jury his Bedford County Memorial Hospital was caught on a revolving shaft and he suffered multiple fractures of ribs, internal injuries, a broken arm and a broken leg.

Counsel for the defendant railroad gained an admission from Brown that he was safe until he moved his arm.

According to testimony, Brown was standing on a ladder to complete his job but was waiting until a helper returned to tell him the machinery had been disconnected. Then the machinery started and he moved his arm.

Payroll Bill Introduced By Preston County Senator

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—after they are originally prepared.

A bill to assure state employees of being paid by the first of each month was introduced in the State Senate today by Sen. A. L. Reed (R-Preston).

It provides that Auditor Edgar now falls several days after the B. Sims could issue checks and first of the month in some cases, turn them over to the treasurer. The State Supreme Court upheld the auditor in his contention that salaries could not be paid, nor payrolls prepared, under existing law until after the services had been rendered.

It would charge department heads with the responsibility of not delivering checks until the pay period had ended and also would hold them responsible for any necessary changes in payrolls.

Trucker Hurt In Bedford Area

A young Everett, Pa., trucker was hospitalized last night following an accident on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Reported in "fair" condition at the Bedford County Memorial Hospital is Roger Ford, 23, who was struck by a tractor-trailer on the fractured ribs, internal injuries, a broken arm and a broken leg.

Police said Ford lost control of the rig 11 miles west of Bedford, struck several guard rails and rammed into a bridge abutment.

Police estimated $9,000 property damage in the accident.

PE WORKER RETIRES — Raymond C. Miller of Corriganville (left), veteran employee of the Potomac Edison Company's river plant in Cumberland, has retired after 37 years' service. He is shown receiving a watch from A. G. Wallis, plant superintendent, at a recent dinner. Looking on is his wife, Miller, a native of McClede, first joined the company in 1921 as an operator at the power plant. In 1933 he was appointed engineer and in 1941, watch engineer.

Westernport Sewage Fee
Collections Net $7,320

WESTERNPORT—Mayor Ray L. Will and Council announced last night that sewage fees totaling $7,320.74 have been collected by the town since last August 1. There are two delinquent payers.

Council voted to maintain the present fee of $6 per home and $12 per business establishments for the collection of garbage. Police Commissioner Leo Herbert discussed parking problems at Westernport Elementary School. Parking meters netted $85.96 last week.

Other routine business was aired.

Cub Pack 46
Gets Charter
At Frostburg

FROSTBURG—Cub Scout Pack 46, sponsored by Zion United Church of Christ, met a recent evening in the church with Charles Richardson, Cubmaster, presiding. He introduced Philander Beeman newly appointed assistant Cubmaster. Plans were made concerning Boy Scout Week, February 8 to 14.

Cub Pack 46 members and their parents will attend services at Zion United Church of Christ Sunday. All members are asked to meet at the church at 10:30 a. m.

John Dunkle presented the pack with its charter.

Den 2 offered a skit based on the January theme, "News-men." The blue and gold dinner which will be held the latter part of Boy Scout Week was discussed.

Awards were given to Wayne Broadwater, one year pin; Larry Sperry, Wolf badge, and Gerald Garlick, golden arrow award. A Webster's ceremony was conducted by Den 3 for Robert Wellings who will enter Boy Scouts.

Given Memorial
John Zimmerman, librarian at Frostburg State Teachers College, announced that a book has been placed in the college library in memory of Joseph Kohout who taught in the science department before his death a year ago.

Members of the faculty at Strong Vincent High School, Erie, Pa., where Kohout's sister is a member of the faculty, made the Midland area by David E. Kirk, county chairman. He is a proprietor of a confectionery on Broad Street and president of the Lonaconing Rotary Club.

Women selected to help in the Heart Sunday campaign February 22 are Mrs. Raymond Thrasher, Mrs. Florence Snelson and Mrs. Leona Clark.

Orr served as a deputy sheriff and was a candidate for sheriff. He is a Navy veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict.

Brief Mention
A teenage dance will be held tomorrow in the Midland fire hall, beginning at 8 p. m.

Cresaptown

CRESAPTOWN—Mr. and Mrs. George Pitchett and family of Falls Church, Va., visited her mother, Mrs. Annie Slank. If the final grades for the past semester are an indication of the future for the football and basketball teams at the University of Maryland, the Terps should be looking for better things.

The gridders and cagers, according to coaches Tom Nugent and H. A. "Bud" Millikan, apparently completed one of the most successful scholastic seasons for athletes in recent years.

Nugent, replacement for Tommy Mont as football boss, said that the gridders' marks are in and nobody had flunked out.

"Everything is okay," Nugent commented. "I understand this is the best scholastic showing here by football players in many years."

A couple of the gridders classified as borderline scholastic cases have made personal petitions, though, to be readmitted for the second semester that starts Monday.

Quarterback Dick Scarbath, sophomore and leading candidate to direct the I-formation of Nugent next fall, was one of the Terps' borderline players who made his grades.

The younger brother of former Maryland All-American Jack Scarbath has been hanging on scholastically and was on probation. He, however, compiled a 2.75 average, his best grades at Maryland, and will be off probation.

Millikan, cage mentor, had his boys register for the new semester before leaving College Park for last night's game with North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The hoopsters, who lost a tough one to the powerful Tar Heels, 64-57, also recorded their best scholastic averages in several years.

Grapplers In Hub City

Professional wrestling, which has held its grip on the television public longer than even the most optimistic promoter dared dream, returns in Hagerstown next Monday night with an all-star show being lined up at the Hub City State Armory.

Eleven "big names," almost as fantastic as the weight of the grapplers which goes from a slim 221 pounds to a hefty 12,000 ounces, feature the show being staged by Kenny Ridenour.

Gene "Mr. America" Stancie (225) will pit falls with Tokyo Joe, (221) while the other co-feature matches "Happy" Humphrey, the world's biggest grappler at 750 pounds, in a handicap test against two opponents — George McCarther, a trim 350-pounder, and George Minko, a not-so-heavy 218-pound Russian. "Happy" will have a 182-pound weight advantage at that.

The first match goes on at 8:30 p. m. and might be a "rock-n-roll" affair with Frank Townsend, the singing wrestler, matching notes with Tom Bradley, apparently an "unsung" matman.

And, to show the versatility of the program, a pair of Zebra Kids will try their "pin-stripes" against Arnold Skandall and "Chuck" DeVona in an Australian tag-team match.

With that list of down-to-earth names, just think what the future holds when one of those rockets eventually lands on the moon and opens up a whole new lineup of moonkicks. How about this one: "Lunatic, the Mad Moonman, vs. Jolly Cholly, the Merry Matman."

Smitty Wasn't Kidding

When Franklin High's perfect basketball record came to a sudden halt Tuesday night it ended the longest win streak in the history of the school. And, wouldn't you know it, a team that had been beaten earlier in the year turned the trick.

Green Bank, whipped by 62-55 at Franklin, went out for revenge and got it with the 83-64 conquest of the Panthers. But it took a bit of doing to halt coach "Gus" Smith's hoopsters. The Green Bankers were up to their basketball ears with a fighting Panther crew in the first half before pulling away with a 42-point spurge after intermission while the Franklins could cut the cords for only 29 markers.

Gus, by the way, is a rarity in the coaching field. We remember talking to "Smiling Smitty" at the Potomac Valley Football Officials dinner last year and he said that he expected to have the best quint in the school's history. Barring any talk-in in their last five games, Franklin will have accomplished just that. They are 14-1 right now.

Also in prospect is the first Potomac Valley Conference title in Franklin's history. The Panthers have swept through nine opponents without a loss and head the circuit. They have three more foes on tap, all of them already tucked away in the victory column.

North Carolina, Cincinnati Picking Up Steam

Pad Skeins By Beating Terrapins, Dayton Club

By TIM MURPHY

United Press International

North Carolina and Cincinnati are picking up steam in their downhill race to conference championships and berths in the NCAA basketball tournament.

The second-ranked Tar Heels held on to first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference Wednesday night by turning back Maryland, 64-57, for their seventh straight victory while a 38-point barrage by Oscar Robertson helped Cincinnati down Dayton, 96-74. It was the fourth-ranked Bearcats' ninth straight triumph.

North Carolina faced Maryland without high-scoring sophomore Doug Moe of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is nursing an injured foot. However, two other "Yankee" Tar Heels took up the slack. York Larese and Harvey Salz accounted for 25 of North Carolina's 28 points in the second half.

13th Tar Heel Win
Larese, a New York City import, wound up with 32 points and Salz, a Brooklyn native, contributed 16. It was the Tar Heels' 13th victory in 14 games. They host an 8-0 conference record compared to North Carolina State's 9-1 slate.

Robertson, the nation's leading scorer, upped his season average to 33.2 points per game against Dayton. The 6-foot-5 All-American cannon a jump shot on the game's first play to give the Bearcats a lead they never relinquished. Dayton scored only one field goal in the first 10 minutes.

Cincinnati, undefeated in the Missouri Valley Conference, now has a 15-2 record against all comers.

Marquette Wins Again
Marquette, another streaking team with tournament dreams, racked up its 14th straight victory and its 16th win in 17 games by bowling over Bowling Green, 73-62. Mike Morn scored 21 points for Ed Hickey's 13th-ranked Warriors, who have already received "feeder" from the NIT selection committee.

George Haveling scored 27 points and grabbed a record 28 rebounds in leading Villanova to a 72-63 triumph over Wagner College. Haveling's rebound total was the highest ever recorded by a Villanova player and also established a new mark for the Philadelphia Palestra. The Wildcats (13-3) also are being considered for the NIT jamboree.

Ben Martin, Crosby Shoot Holes-In-One

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Two amateur golfers were the talk of the tournament today as top-billed professional stars led off in the first round of the $20,000 Phoenix Open.

Crooner Bing Crosby and football coach Ben Martin both shot a hole-in-one during the pro-am phase of the tourney Wednesday.

Crosby used a 3 iron to sink his ace on the par-3 187-yard ninth hole. It was his fourth hole in one, but first in competition.

Martin, who coached the Air Force Academy to an undefeated season last year, dropped a 3 wood shot into the cup on the 208-yard eleventh hole. It was the first ace for Martin, who was using a set of borrowed clubs.

Veterans of the professional tour said they could not recall another pro-am event when two amateurs sank aces in the same round.

Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N. Y., and young Tony Lama, San Leandro, Calif., cornered a share of the spotlight by posting five under par 65s and pocketing the first payoff of the 72-hole tournament — $225 each as low professionals in the pro-am.

Most of the pros found the 6,602-yard Arizona County Club course rough going with its numerous traps and tree-lined fairways. Eleven of those participating in the pro-am broke the 34-36-70 par.

Guerin Drive Lights Fire Under Knicks

By United Press International

Richie Guerin's steady drive is lighting a fire under the New York Knickerbockers and making the former Iowa star a man to be reckoned with in the National Basketball Association.

Guerin, who appears ready to pass his season total of 1,041 points with ease, scored 12 of his 39 points in the final period Wednesday night to give New York a 129-126 come-from-behind victory over the Boston Celtics.

St. Louis, blowing a 20-point lead, surged back to defeat Syracuse, 113-111, and Detroit edged Philadelphia, 119-117, in double overtime in the only other games played.

Gives Knicks Edge
Guerin, who now has a total of 874 points with 21 games to go, gave New York a 32-30 edge at the end of the first period with a three-point play.

Boston swept back on the shooting of Bill Russell and Frank Ramsey to take a 100-91 margin entering the last period. But Guerin's deadly accuracy in the fourth quarter spelled defeat for the Eastern Division leaders.

Russell and Ramsey paced the Celtics with 22 points each.

Lovellette Scores 30
Clyde Lovellette capped a 30-point night as he scored in the last 50 seconds of play to give St. Louis a lead the Hawks retained to the end. St. Louis had led, 96-88, at halftime, but the Nats led the score at 76-61 in the third period and led, 99-95, shortly after the fourth quarter began. Ed Conlin led Syracuse with 23 points as the Nats lost their fourth start in five games.

Detroit missed winning in regulation time when the Pistons went the last six minutes without a basket. Both teams scored six points in the first overtime session, and it took a 25-foot hook shot by Phil Jordan with five seconds left in the second extra period to bring Detroit home in front.

Paul Arizin topped Philadelphia with 29 points while Walt Duke was Detroit's high man with 26.

Bowie Will Cut Time For Bets

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — Race fans at Bowie will have less time between races to pick a probable winner and plunk down money at the mutuel windows.

Track officials announced today that past time for the first race this year will remain 1:30 p. m., despite a decision by the State Racing Commission last Tuesday to increase the number of daily races from eight to nine.

The time between races will be cut from 30 to 26 minutes. The final race will be scheduled to reach the post at 4:58 p. m., two minutes earlier than the old time.

Racing secretary John Turner Jr. will card the featured event as the seventh race on weekdays and stakes races as the eighth race on Saturdays and holidays.

Bowie's 44-day meeting opens Saturday.

Tar Heels In Sweet Victory Over Terps

By The Associated Press

North Carolina racked up its 13th basketball victory last night and it was one of the sweetest of the season for the Tar Heels.

The victims were the Maryland Terps, the team that dethroned the Tar Heels as Atlantic Coast Conference champions, in the conference tournament last season.

Larese Paces Attack
The 64-57 win was due in great part to sophomore York Larese. Lifting from the outside with deadly accuracy, he poured in 32 points, 19 of them in the hotly-contested second half.

A capacity crowd of 4,500 in North Carolina's Woolen Gymnasium saw the lead switch several times early in the first half. Then Harvey Salz hit a 15-footer at 3:30 to make it 24-23 and the Tar Heels were ahead the rest of the way.

The Terps, behind 36-27 at halftime, staged a brief second half rally, narrowing the count to 59-54. But foul shots by Larese and Salz put North Carolina out of reach with 1:27 left.

Terp Big Men Bottled
Maryland's big men, Al Bunge and Charlie McNeil, were bottled up much of the game by a tight North Carolina man-to-man defense.

Bunge led Maryland scoring with 17 points. McNeil was held to 10. Maryland out-rebounded North Carolina but hit only 33 per cent of its field goal attempts, compared to 43 per cent for the Tar Heels.

North Carolina, ranked second in the nation, now has a 13-1 record and an 8-0 showing as the conference leader.

It was Maryland's fourth loss in eight conference games.

Conference teams are idle tonight. The Tar Heels take on Duke at Durham Friday night.

'Big O' Widens Scoring Margin

By The Associated Press

Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's All America, widened his lead in the major college basketball scoring race Wednesday night when he tallied 38 points against Dayton and boosted his game average to 33.2. Cincinnati won 96-84.

Only two other members of the top 10 were in action. One, Bob Ayersman of Virginia Tech moved up a notch as he tallied 34 points against The Citadel. He raised his average to 26.9 and replaced Pitt's Don Meon as No. 5 on the list.

Figures compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau showed.

Edgar Blair of Western Michigan saw his average drop slightly to 23.5 when he was held to 22 points by Toledo but he remained in ninth place.

Maccabees Score 12th Church Win

United Press International

Maccabees were given a fight all the way before dropping Centre Street Methodist, 36-34, yesterday at the "Y" to give the American Division leaders of the Central YMCA Sunday School Basketball League their 12th victory in 13 outings.

Two more contests are billed today with St. Luke's Lutheran facing First Methodist at 5 o'clock while Park Place Methodist opposes Melvin Methodist an hour later. Both games are slated for the "Y" boards.

In other loop engagements last night Potomac Park handed the South Cumberland Salvation Army quint its 13th consecutive loss, 50-18, while First Presbyterian scored a mid-upset triumph over Kingsley Methodist, 35-32.

Centre Street battled the favored Maccabees to an 18-18 deadlock at halftime and trailed by only four points at 30-28 at the close of the third quarter.

The winners copped the game at the foul line where they converted 10 of 17 chances to Centre Street's 4-14 mark. Centre Street carried a 15-13 margin in field goals in a losing cause.

Schindler paced the Maccabees with 11 points while Bolinger had 14 for Centre Street.

First Presbyterian knocked Kingsley Methodist out of seventh place in the division with a three-point victory which also was gained at the foul line. The victors converted 15 of 23 fouls to Kingsley's 4-10 after being outscored from the field, 14-10.

High man was White of Kingsley with 15 points. Toss garnered 10 for First Presbyterian.

The winless South Cumberland Salvation Army quint suffered its 13th straight defeat to Potomac Park EUB, trailing all the way.

Comer and Cosner with 11 and 10 points respectively led Potomac Park's 24-goal attack while Combs had seven markers for the Salvation Army.

Bobcats Lose 11th Contest, Play Tonight

Luckless Frostburg State Teachers College hopes to crack into the victory column tonight for the first time in a dozen starts when invading Hagerstown to meet the Hagerstown Junior College quint. It will be the return go for the teams, the Hub City cagers copping a 76-67 victory in the Mountain City last Thursday.

The Bobcats were handed their 11th setback last night when Salem College routed the charges of coach Harold Cordis, 114-08, in the West Virginia town.

Fred Gandt poured in 31 points and Dave Christie 25 to lead the Salem attack.

The Tigers, now 4-13 on the season, were in front only 47-41 at halftime but outscored the losers 67-47 in the last 20 minutes.

Frostburg's Roy Mann took game honors with 35 points followed by Jim Sigler with 19 markers. Ray Trinita had 17 and Ron Whit 12 for Salem.

A full-court press in the second half provided the difference as Salem broke loose, leading by over 30 points with five minutes remaining.

Potomac State Loses At Baltimore, 73-71

Baltimore Junior College scored a come-from-behind 73-71 victory over Potomac State College in a Tri-State Conference game Tuesday night at Baltimore as Al Abrams sank two free throws in the final 30 seconds.

Potomac led 33-29 at halftime.

Yanks Hope To Sign Holdout Ford Today

By MILTON RICHMAN

United Press International

Whitley Ford has a bowling date with Mickey Mantle this week end in Dallas, and the Yankee front office would love to make a ten-strike by signing the southpaw pitcher today before he takes off for Texas.

Ford, who has been asked to accept an $8,000 cut, said he wasn't sure whether he would drop by the club office today.

"I may and I may not," he said. "I'm going to Dallas tomorrow for the opening of Mick's bowling alley. But if I don't see Roy Hamey today I'll have time to see him before I go to training camp."

Ford and Mantle certainly won't be talking ten-pins in Dallas. When they get a chance to huddle together, you can bet they'll discuss Casey Stengel's recent blast, of which they were the chief targets, and the salary slash each is being asked to take.

Little Public Beefing

Calm, cool and collected as usual, Ford isn't beefing much publicly about the cut other than to say, "I don't intend to take it."

He can't see how he rates one in light of his 14-7 record, which included seven shutouts and a 2.01 earned run average that was tops in the American League.

The Yankees, who will have a lot of talking to do before they ever can convince Whitley, required little such persuasion in getting 42-year-old Enos (Country) Slaughter to agree to terms.

Embarking on his 19th playing season in the majors, Slaughter signed for the same money he received last year, approximately $18,000. He batted .304 in 77 games and probably of equal importance is that he still is exhibit A whenever Stengel delivers one of his "why-don't-you-take-a-les-son-from" lectures to the rest of his players.

There was considerable signing activity among other major league clubs, too.

Dodgers Sign Gilliam

Jim Gilliam became the 24th member of the Los Angeles Dodgers to okay terms.

General Manager E. J. Bavasi hinted that several clubs tried to get Gilliam but said "they didn't even come close."

He considered Gilliam like "four men rolled into one. He's one of the best leadoff men; he's a switch hitter and he can play out the infield or outfield equally well."

San Francisco announced the signing of outfielders Leon Wagner and Willie Kirkland and infielder Ray Jablonski, while Philadelphia satisfied five players at a clip — pitcher Jim Iffman, infielder Johnny O'Brien and rookies Lou Vassie, Dallas Green and Henry Mason.

The Chicago White Sox corralled veteran Ray Boone and the Baltimore Orioles signed newcomers George Bamberger and Ray Barker. The White Sox now have 22 players under contract and the Orioles 18.

Boston had a big day, also, getting signed contracts from pitchers Willard Nixon and Jerry Casale and catchers Haywood Sullivan and Ed Sadowski.

Pitcher Gary Blaylock, 14-10, with Rochester last season, agreed to terms with the St. Louis Cardinals.

ALCO-SAVAGE SEATS TO BE RESERVED

Coach Johnny Thomas of Mt. Savage High announced this morning that 200 seats will be reserved for the game tomorrow night between the Indians and Allegheny at Mt. Savage. They will be on sale at both schools.

Thomas also stated that 250 unreserved seats will be sold at the door. The Indians, who are having the best season in the school's history with a 12-2 record, will possibly have the same setup for the rest of their home games.

Home opponents remaining are Valley, Fort Hill and LaSalle, following tomorrow night's contest.

USC Tightens Policy, Looks For 'Pardon'

By JOE ST. AMANT

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The University of Southern California walked a tight-rope today with a stricter policy on recruitment of student athletes but fretted under NCAA penalties and hoped for a partial pardon.

The university, ham-strung in its quest for national honors because of NCAA sanctions, said in effect, "Look, what a good boy am I!" But at the same time asserted it was never a really bad boy.

Two paid Trojan recruiters were wrist-slapped for incurring NCAA wrath with over-zealous approaches to two football prospects in the East, the SC alumni organization was requested to refrain from contacting prospective student athletes, and the university administration in regard to student affairs including athletics was "reorganized."

Asks Ban Be Lifted
These developments were announced at a press conference Wednesday by SC President Dr. Norman Topping who said he would present a formal appeal for alleviation of penalties to the NCAA Executive Committee meeting in April.

Dr. Topping said he hoped the NCAA would lift a ban on participation by Trojan athletes in national championship events for one year and would allow strong SC teams in tennis (led by Davis Cupper Alex Olmedo), baseball and track and field to compete for national honors.

Topping also said he hoped that the expiration date of this ban, Jan. 7, 1960, would be pulled back to the first of the year so that the Trojan football team could become eligible to compete in the New Year's Day Rose Bowl game.

Topping appeared uninterested in alleviation of other NCAA penalties such as ban on appearance of any Trojan athletes in NCAA-sponsored televised events (and financial receipts thereof). This penalty was set at two years.

Recruiters Reprimanded
Topping went on to say Al Davis, an assistant football coach, and Nick Pappas, alumni field secretary, "have been reprimanded, placed on probation, and taken out of all recruitment activities. Other assignments in the university will be offered them so their loyal interest and energies can best be utilized."

Pappas and Davis, both former Trojan football players, later issued statements saying they felt they had "not committed any violations of the NCAA code." Davis will revert to his status as strictly a football coach and Pappas will be offered a job in the university administration, the nature of which Topping declined to disclose.

The administrative reorganization Topping spoke of, will be headed by Francis Tappan, a football end in the Howard Jones era of the 1930s, who will become a university vice president July 1. He will oversee all student activities including the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics and relations with the alumni, apparently relegated to a back-seat in recruitment of athletes.

Trio Youth Tilts On Tap Tonight

First-half champion St. Michael's of Frostburg and runner-up SS. Peter and Paul both sought their fourth triumph without a setback in the second-half race tonight.

The Mountain City cagers will tangle with St. Ambrose of Cresaptown at 8 o'clock on the SS. Peter and Paul court. St. Michael's has won its last nine games since being beaten by SS. Peter and Paul early in the season.

The Flying Dutchmen will be at St. Mary's to take on the Gaels with that contest slated to start at 7:30.

In the first part of the double-header on the SS. Peter and Paul hardwoods, St. Peter's of Westport clashed with St. Patrick's at 6:45.

CRESAPTOWN TOPS BRUCE BY 31-22

After trailing, 13-12, at intermission, Cresaptown Junior High staged a second-half rally to win its eighth game in ten starts by whipping Bruce Junior High, 31-22, yesterday at Westernport.

"Chuck" Davis hooped 14 points for the winners while Warnick dropped in 10 for the losers.

Flanagan In Disputed Win Over Dupas

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—Speed was the difference between victory Del Flanagan and vanquished Ralph Dupas, but the officials and the fighters all saw the same thing differently.

"Sure, he hit me more," Flanagan said, "but they were just light taps and when I hit him, I hit him hard."

"Why, I hit him four or five times for every punch he landed," Dupas said, complaining bitterly about a "hometown" decision.

Flanagan, who had been fourth-ranked among the welterweights, gained a split decision for his seventh straight triumph. Judge Jim Petrucci gave Dupas, who was third-ranked, a 97-96 edge.

The United Press International card was 97-95 for Dupas, and representatives of the four St. Paul-Minneapolis papers also scored the bout for Dupas, one of them by a 98-94 tally.

But Judge Dick Delaney made it 98-95 for Flanagan and referee John Stanton 97-95 for the Minneapolis boxer to give him his 93rd win in 110 pro bouts. It was Dupas' 11th defeat in 91 matches.

NCAA Considers Changes In TV Grid Schedule

CHICAGO (AP) — The NCAA Television Committee today is expected to complete a 1959 program for college football with the possibility of some change from the past two years.

"The ratio of national and regional telecasts may be changed, said Asa Bushnell, commissioner of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, and the committee's TV program director.

He said there may be consideration for 8 national and 5 regional dates, or 10 national and 3 regional shows. The 1957 and 1958 programs provided for 9 national "game of the week" telecasts and 4 regional telecasts within the NCAA districts.

If the 1959 plan is completed the basic elements may be announced at once, said Howard Grubbs of the Southwest Conference, chairman of the 1959 committee.

However, the entire plan will not be announced until the NCAA membership votes in a mail referendum. Approval requires two-thirds majority of those voting.

Auerbach Fined By NBA Prexy

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Celtics Coach Red Auerbach has been fined $100 by National Basketball Assn. President Maurice Podoloff for his actions in St. Louis in a game against the Hawks Jan. 20.

Auerbach was ejected from the game after drawing two technical fouls and engaging in a violent argument with a rookie referee.

Norm Brucker, When pelted by fans as he left the St. Louis floor in the third period, Auerbach started up into the stands but was restrained by Boston players.

St. Louis went on to defeat Boston 119-114.

Old Germans Seeking 12th Straight Win

Moose padded its lead in the City Basketball League by racking up its third triumph without a loss last night, 65-55 over Chaney's Transportation at Carver gym.

But Old Germans, first-half champs, made their debut in the second-half and romped over Forty & Eight Club, 91-63. The triumph was the 11th without a defeat for the Brewers who began the opening title with a 10-0 mark.

Brewers Meet Caseys
Old Germans will shoot for their 12th straight tonight when tangle with Knights of Columbus in the second part of a twin-bill at Fort Hill at 8:30. Old Exports oppose Chaney's in the lifter at 7 o'clock.

Chaney's gave the league-leading Moose a battle after trailing by 14 points at the close of the third period, 51-37.

The losers rallied to pull within five points at 60-55 with 2½ minutes to play, but the Moose closed the door with the final six points of the game.

Ken Johnson and George McGregor shared scoring honors for the Moose with 15 points apiece.

High man for the game was Chaney's Ellsworth Lambert with 20 markers.

The Old German doubled the score at intermission and toyed with the Forty & Eight quint in chalking up their 11th straight win.

Marple, Moran 'Hit'
Don Moran and Dave Marple each scored 29 points for the victors with 13 of Moran's tallies coming in a 26-point scoring spree by the Old Gees in the second period. Buck Smith added 19 points to the Old Germans total.

High scorer for the Forty & Eight quint was John Poling who dumped in 21 markers. Ed Parsons had 15 in a losing cause.

Golden Eagles Pose Threat Bobcat Skein

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—

Wesleyan places its 21-0 record on the line here tonight in a crucial West Virginia Conference basketball game against red-hot Morris Harvey.

Six other games are scheduled, including Davis & Elkins at Wheeling, Alderson-Broadus at Fairmont, Shippensburg, Pa., at Shepherd, Concord at King, Tenn., Steubenville, Ohio, at West Liberty and Bluefield State at Fayetteville, Tenn.

Frostburg Routed
In Wednesday's action, Salem won 114-88 over Frostburg, Md. Teachers and Bluefield dropped a 73-62 verdict in Shaw, N. C.

Wesleyan Coach Hank Ellis knows his Bobcats will have no easy time of it with Morris Harvey. "We'll be glad to settle for a win by just one point," he declared.

Ellis said his team was in excellent shape with the exception of playmaker Jim Wilkinson. The 5-foot-8 co-captain suffered a slipped disc in his back last week against Glenville.

Meanwhile, Coach Sonny Moran said he thought his team was capable of beating Wesleyan. "If ever a team wanted to win a game, this is it," he said.

Moran said he was disappointed with the 92-61 drubbing received earlier at Buckhannon and indicated that he would pull out all stops tonight.

Lead With 15-4 Mark
Wesleyan leads the conference with a 15-4 mark while Morris Harvey is third at 7-2 in the WVC.

The Golden Eagles have won 10 in a row at home, eight of them this season. Their wins here this year include verdicts over William & Mary and West Virginia Tech.

Fred Gandt poured in 31 points and Dave Christie 25 Wednesday night at Salem to lead the Tigers over Frostburg.

Salem, now 4-13 on the season, was in front only 47-41 at the half but outscored Frostburg 67-47 in the last 20 minutes for an easy triumph.

Frostburg's Ron Mann took game honors with 35 points followed by Jim Sigler with 18 markers. Ray Trincia had 17 and Ron Whitt 12 for Salem.

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Bob Miller, veteran relief pitcher for the Philadelphia Phillies, today was property of the St. Louis Cardinals, at least for a time.

General Manager Bing Devine said Wednesday Miller was bought on a conditional basis from the Buffalo club, a Philadelphia affiliate in the International League.

Miller's performance with the Red Birds during spring training at St. Petersburg, Fla., will determine whether or not he stays, Devine said. A decision on his contract will be reached by April 10, opening day for National League play.

There is always an element of luck in building an unbeaten record. Franklin had his share of close calls before finally falling. One of the tightest ones was against much-beaten Mathias. In that one the Panthers came from way back to finally win in overtime, 73-70.

Mathias is one of quints yet to be faced and is waiting as a stumbling block for Franklin in the PVC. Also on the card will be Wardsville and Elk Garden. The Warriors are above average this season and extended Franklin before losing, 61-48.

Elk Garden has yet to win in 13 starts, but the Slags, who have a high-scoring but defensively-weak team, also gave the Panthers plenty of trouble in their first game. It took a layup by "Shorly" Rexrode with only five seconds to go in their clash at

Life Aboard Riverboat Is Costly Deal

New York Boat Show Features Houseboat Idea

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you want to send the family down the river, you can.

Cost: $3,795 — plus a thousand, or so for extras.

The initial investment buys a dreamy houseboat that sleeps six. Keeping the thing tidy is a breeze, so it may be just what you need if housework's got you at sea.

The modest riverboat is among hundreds moored at the National Boat Show in New York's Coney Island.

Among other things, it offers freedom from worries about muddy tracks, lawns that need mowing, door-to-door salesmen, the angels next door.

No Room For Clutter

A good housing scheme it ship-shape. And once aboard, the family is forced to be neat-as-a-pin. There just isn't room for clutter.

You may be able to control your own children a little more easily on a waterway than you can on land. Just pull up the gangplank when you want them to stay in and pay attention to their books.

Pulling up the anchor and drifting is a way of solving other problems. Such as when you see a caller coming and want to duck. Or when you want to drift out of car-crowd of neighboring boats to have a few loud words with husband.

Among extras you'll want to buy for your river-boating family will be plastic coveralls. You hose them when they get dirty.

Need Special Flugs

You also need a special set of flugs. One featuring a coffee-pot means come aboard. For later in the day, you can run up flugs showing either a beer mug or cocktail glass — all depending on how seaworthy your budget is.

When everyone's bedded down, you're supposed to run up a flag showing two slumbering bunnies.

In the nautical language, there are flags that only a husband may use. One features a battle-axe on a field of white which means: Wife aboard. Another, showing a witch on her broom means — wife ashore.

Mailing Package Can Be Costly

Hagerstowner Wins Contest

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — John Eshleman of Hagerstown has been named winner of the 1958 Dairy Efficient Production Contest. Presentation of the award was made during the sixth annual meeting of the Maryland Dairy Herd Improvement Corporation, meeting in Baltimore.

Second place winner was Grayson Bowers, Frederick County dairyman who won recognition because of a sound forage program.

An exposition of scouting activities and handicraft will be held by Nemoacolin Trail District of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts, at the National Boat Show on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Over 800 adult scouts, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts from 28 different units will take part in the exposition. All registered scouts and scouters showing their current registration card or who are in uniform will be admitted free. A slight admission fee will be charged visitors.

The exhibits will be open each day from 6 p. m. until 10 p. m. The units which will take part, their sponsors and their projects are as follows:

Troop 1, St. Luke's Lutheran Church, rope work; Troop 4, Central Street Methodist Church, mapping; Troop 7, Cumberland Rotary Club, flag display; Troop 9, Cresaptown Methodist Church, handicraft; Troop 10, LaVale Methodist Church, first aid; Troop 11, LaVale Baptist Church, pioneering; Troop 13, First Presbyterian Church, nature and models; Troop 17, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, marksmanship; Troop 23, John Humbird PTA, cooking; Troop 42, First Methodist Church, Frothingburg, stamp collecting; Troop 79, Oldtown PTA and Sportsmen, conservation; Troop 87, Northeastern PTA, cooking.

Troop 90, Pimlston Methodist Church, firemaking and fireplaces; Pack 1, Columbia Street PTA, Canada; Pack 2, Penn Avenue PTA, Gad and country display; Pack 6, SS. Peter and Paul PTA, handicraft; Pack 20, Mt. Royal PTA, handicraft; Pack 90, Flintstone PTA, Indian themes; Post 1, St. Luke's Church, archery; Post 9, Cresaptown Methodist Church, aquatics; Post 10, LaVale Methodist Church, Philmont Scout Ranch; Post 17, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, forestry; Post 52, Frothingburg, handicraft; Air Squadron 42, First Methodist Church, air display.

Westernport New Highway Job Planned

Work Scheduled To Start This Year; Conference Held

A spokesman for the State Roads Commission said today construction of a new highway in Westernport to tie in with Maryland Route 36 will begin this year.

Yesterday a preliminary investigation of the proposed highway, which will be about a mile and a half in length, was held by personnel of the SRC and a consulting engineer firm.

Within about two months SRC officials hope to have a report on the estimated cost of the project being built to alleviate the traffic problem of Westernport.

A few changes in original plans were made yesterday during the investigation. The highway is to be constructed from Church Street in the vicinity of the Boat Funeral Home and will extend along the rear of Main Street to a point near the Baptist Church on Philos Avenue.

The highway will then extend across Georges Creek, cross Waverly Terrace and continue up through Brophytown and back across the creek north of the existing bridge in that community. The highway will tie in with Route 36 near a sweeping curve beyond Franklin.

Main Street in Westernport is scheduled to become one-way with the construction of the new highway. A number of homes and a couple of business places will have to be razed in order that the highway may be constructed.

Attending yesterday's investigation were two representatives of the Office of Special Service of the SRC, two representatives of Maddox and Hopkins, consulting engineer firm of Silver Spring; Robert Murray of the right of way department of SRC District 6; George E. Geary, construction engineer of the district; Mayor Ray L. Wilt of Westernport and Commissioner L. C. Lambert, and Commissioner Leo Herbert.

Some time ago the town of Westernport requested that such a highway be built in that community and the project got the backing of State Senator Charles M. See.

Robinson To Face Grand Jury Action

Andrew L. Robinson, 48, of 118 South Lee Street, was ordered held for action of the April term of the grand jury following a hearing yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court on a larceny charge.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick conducted the preliminary hearing and set bond at $500. Robinson was ordered committed to the County Jail in default of bond.

The local man has been charged with the theft of liquor and a shotgun valued at $175 from Geatz's Restaurant and Tavern, Paca Street, on January 15.

Riddle Not Guilty

William Riddle of Cumberland was found not guilty by Magistrate Morris Baron in Trial Magistrate Court on a charge of littering Christie Road near the Cumberland Country Club. Julius E. Schindler was attorney for Riddle and the case was prosecuted by Assistant State's Attorney Donald W. Mason.

RIDING THE BOOM — Three young singers, who call themselves the Kingston Trio, are riding the teenage music boom to early fortunes. Dave Guard, Bob Shane and Nick Reynolds, left to right, scored a hit with their recording of "Hang Down Yer Head, Tom Dooley." But they know teenagers are fickle, so the trio is broadening its audience with appearances all over the nation, especially at colleges. (AP Photofax)

Another article on the teenage music industry.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Three fresh-faced young men stepped up to the microphone. They were dressed identically in Ivy League pants and open-necked striped shirts. They plunked two guitars and a banjo and started crooning: "Hang down yer head, Tom Dooley."

The youthful crowd of 6,000 in Los Angeles Shrine Auditorium loosed a roar of approval. "Pure boy, you're goin' 'dile."

Cheers shook the great hall. This was the signal of acceptance for three bright fellows who are riding the teen-age music boom to early fortunes.

Bette Davis Still Top Portrayer Of Anguish

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bette Davis, love her, may well be the champion sufferer of our time. She is an actress of skill, agony, anguish and the clonic spasms who wastes herself too off work he practices his music. He said he was glad to be doing star pupil at some early version of Actortured Studio.

Wednesday night, Miss Davis, we can all rest easy. Western joined Wagon Train and that defense is in good hands.

CBS-TV's Armstrong Circle Theatre dramatized the 1938 Nova Scotia mine disaster Wednesday night. "Miracle At Springhill" it was called and although it was a trifle slow, it was also a painfully moving drama.

This presented a handful of The Channel Swine: NBC-TV's problems complicated to some ex-George Gobel will give way on tent by the fact that her oldest daughter was being pursued by a series, Pete Kelly's Blues and a young man on the train and her Jimmie Rodgers music show.

And as if this wasn't enough, in April in favor of the Court of Miss Davis was informed midway Human Relations. Starting next in the plot that she had an in-Monday Dennis James will re-curable disease which would place Fred Robbins as emcee of her off the planet before the end Haggis Baggis for the rest of its commercial.

Well, naturally it all worked out. NBC-TV will start the Steve Al-pretty well except for Miss Davis, who died, but I imagine she's giving March 15, getting a 30-pretty used to that sort of thing. The Allen shift means the turned in a good performance. Or, jumping of NBC-TV's Buddy Breg-at least I think she did—I'm not man show. Marge and Gower sure because at this point in her Champion and Herb Shriner are career the talented Miss Davis set as stars of the first CBS-TV seems to be grinding out parodies. Coca Cola spec on March 30.

Perry Como is quite close to himself. As for me, I found it all a bit signing a deal which would see much. Starting today, I'm going him take over the Wednesday back to the afternoon soap operas, night NBC-TV Kraft Music Hall next fall. If Como shifts, his Saturday night slot on NBC-TV may

On Bridge

Doubles Force Laydown Slam

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

West's three-spade opening was typical nonvulnerable pre-emptive bid and East's raise to four was merely a continuation of the barrage.

The preempts worked fine. South had to bid at the five level.

Opening lead—AK

and since he could not bid both suits he bid his six carder.

North did not like hearts at all but saw no reason to raise the contract to the six level in an effort to find a better spot. After all, South could have eight or nine hearts.

East could not stand prosperly. He had three sure tricks in hearts and doubled the five-heart bid. If he could have put glue on his double everything would have been fine.

South passed but now North ran out to six clubs. East doubled that also. North could and probably would have made it but now South was ready to bid his second suit and did.

West doubled six diamonds. He had a sure trump trick and his partner had doubled everything else.

His trump trick was all his side could make. South ruffed the opening spade lead, took his ace and king of trumps and went after the clubs. Since they broke nicely he was able to spread his hands and concede a trick to the queen of trumps any time West wanted to take it.

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
Pass Pass 10 Pass
2NT Pass 7
You, South, hold:
AK7854 K854 A852
What do you do?

A—A slam appears quite likely but the way to get there is to make haste slowly. Just bid three diamonds and await developments.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner continues with a bid of four diamonds. What do you do now?

New Officers Elected Here By Coin Club

Officers were elected by the Western Maryland Coin Club at a recent meeting.

Named president is Ralph G. Smith, 907 Louisiana Avenue, a charter member of the club sponsored by the City Recreation Department.

Mrs. Alice Carroll was elected vice president; Anthony J. Clout, re-elected secretary; Olin D. Kessler, re-elected treasurer; and John Dorn, program director.

Smith urged the club to increase the membership from the present 63 persons to 100. Persons interested in joining can do so by calling the City Recreation Department at City Hall.

The next meeting of the club will be February 17 and Lincoln coins will be the theme of the meeting.

A penny with a new design is being issued to coincide with the Lincoln Day observance. It is the first change in the penny design since 1909.

Coins will be struck by both the Philadelphia and Denver mints.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, February 5, 1939

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Good influences prevail now, but don't force matters, as may be the tendency now. New projects and familiar matters equally favored.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Personal advancement, perhaps, may gain possible in business, work, money interests sponsored. However, watch out for reckless or selfish tendencies, and do not be too critical of others.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—Your Mercury in fine aspects: You should profit by brilliant ideas, impressive moves and necessary changes. This can really be a BIG day.

JUNE 22 to JULY 21 (Cancer)—Be alert to flatterers and watch your budget. Get sufficient sleep and keep your disposition even, untroubled by others' acts or words. You can be a good leader if you remain calm and forget personal desires for the moment.

JULY 22 to AUGUST 21 (Leo)—It is important to respect your own faults as well as those of your associates. Check a desire to push on, without thought of others, without giving consequences sufficient thought.

AUGUST 22 to SEPTEMBER 21 (Virgo)—Gives as much attention to the little as the big ones and you will gain far greater coverage in work results. Configurations sponsor all well-thought plans, activities.

SEPTEMBER 22 to OCTOBER 21 (Libra)—You can make fine headway now if you put forth your best efforts and plan your program with Libra's smile—can make this day for you, despite confidence.

OCTOBER 22 to NOVEMBER 21 (Scorpio)—Do all that is reasonably expected of you—and pleasantly—but be sure to respect your own faults as well as those of your associates. Check a desire to push on, without thought of others, without giving consequences sufficient thought.

NOVEMBER 22 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius)—Do all that is reasonably expected of you—and pleasantly—but be sure to respect your own faults as well as those of your associates. Check a desire to push on, without thought of others, without giving consequences sufficient thought.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 21 (Capricorn)—Back up convictions sensibly. Don't indulge in needless effort, rivalry, to show off, or to outdo others, and take problems in stride. Be tactful, too.

JANUARY 22 to FEBRUARY 21 (Aquarius)—A good period, this, for getting details out of the way. Tackle problems realistically, logically—as you so well can.

FEBRUARY 22 to MARCH 21 (Pisces)—Neptune's position again warns against carelessness in confidential matters, in the handling of chemicals, medicines, liquids generally. Otherwise, the day can prove satisfactory, profitable.

YOU BORN TODAY are curious, investigative, often go to extremes and often, surprisingly, bright about unexpected events and happenings. You are kindly, lean to inventiveness and rather knowledge quickly. You may have to steady yourself and be purposeful in thought and action to reap the true achievement that can be yours since you may give in to spells of lethargy. Careless habits must be curbed early in life and determination to do good in all things strengthened. You can accomplish a great deal if you keep resolutely, usefully busy. Birth date: Sir Henry Irvine, noted actor. (King Features, Inc.)

Runner-Up In Contest

Paul Stuart Ossip, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ossip, 609 Washington Street, is one of seven Maryland runners-up in the 1938-39 achievement awards program, sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English.

Ossip, a senior at Allegheny High School, is one of 633 award winners and runners-up who survived severe screening by their schools and by the respective state judging teams.

Stewart Wins

James Stewart has been elected vice president of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America. The count of ballots in the run-off election was completed last night.

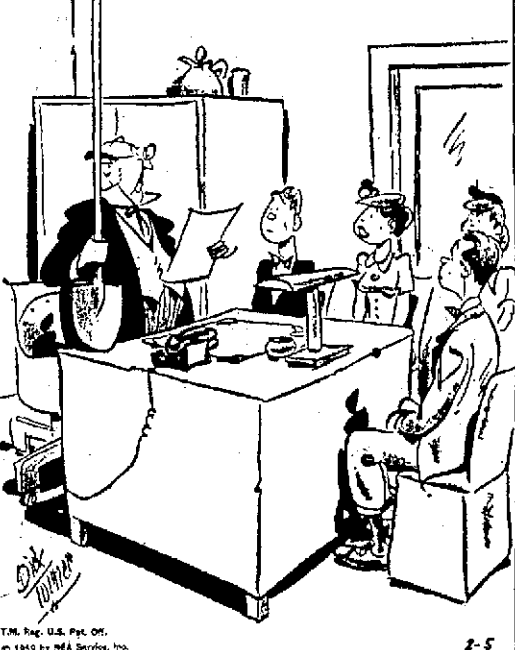

Mr. Stewart won over Melvin Sloan.
